WILLIAM AND MARY

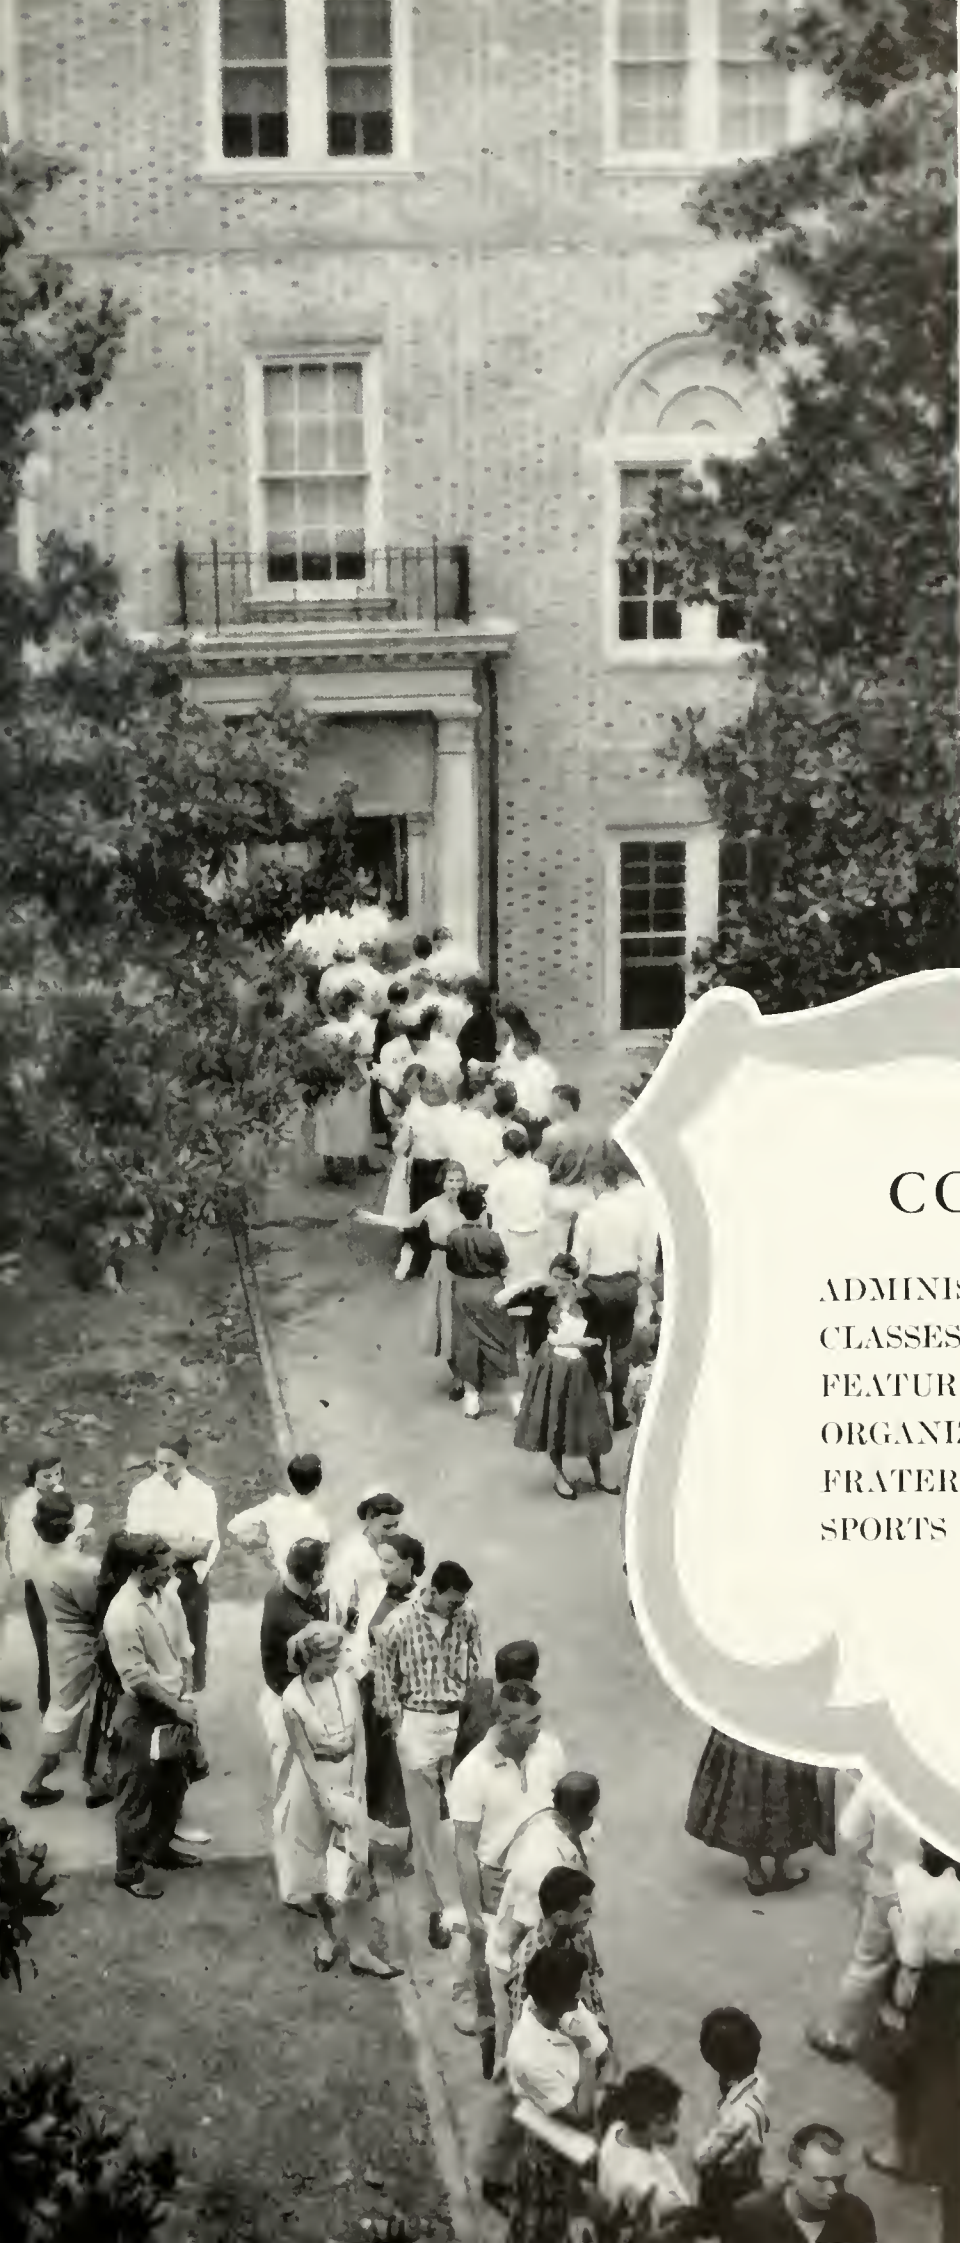

*F*oreword

William and Mary, loved of old . . . your time-honored traditions have made us richer in spirit . . . your imparted knowledge has made us richer in mind . . . your students have given us a wealth of lasting friendships . . . and it is for these things that we shall long hold you in our hearts.

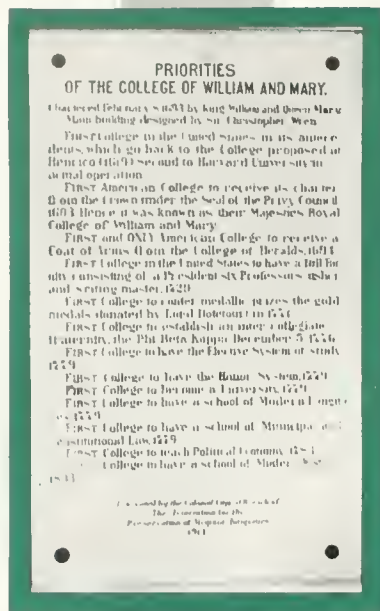

The following pages of the COLONIAL ECHO are but a small reflection of many vivid memories shared by the student body at William and Mary . . . memories of Christmas serenades ringing in the air . . . of Indian athletic victories . . . of the friendly spirit that annually pervades the campus. It is to preserve these lasting features which have become an intrinsic part of the College that the editors proudly present the nineteen hundred and fifty-nine edition of the COLONIAL ECHO.

The centuries of traditions at William and Mary have given to her name a richness of meaning and a nobility of spirit. They have given to her students an Alma Mater of which they can long be proud.

Her traditions are our heritage, to be cherished and remembered throughout the passage of time. In her past there is much to be admired, much to be kept in our hearts . . .

The Priorities of the College which, because we are constantly reminded of their origin, take on an added significance on campus . . . the Wren Building, oldest academic building in the United States, representative of the high scholarly achievement of our forefathers in the face of great adversity . . . Lord Botetourt, traditional figure on the campus, annually paid homage by the Freshman students . . . the President's House, symbolic of the high standards which the administration has set for the young men and women of the College. These are but a few of the traditions at William and Mary, but they represent the fulfillment of many dreams . . .

Traditions

Knowledge is a golden key that opens wide the doors to a future of promise. At William and Mary this key is held out to all who are willing to take advantage of its opportunities. Here one learns that knowledge is gained not only from textbooks and lectures, but from life itself; it is embodied in many things . . . in the sudden awakening of a student to the vast horizons that are laid before him by the opening of a book . . . in his avid response to a course of study that deeply challenges his thinking . . . in the religious organizations in which he may actively participate and from which he may richly benefit . . . in the experience of dorm life, where he realizes the satisfaction of living in harmony with others . . . in the many and varied cultural opportunities afforded him by the College . . . in the assurance that at the end of his four years at William and Mary he is well prepared to face the future.

The key to knowledge is his; the doors also his, waiting to be unlocked.

Those friendships which we have made during our years at William and Mary we shall not easily forget for the intangible warmth of love is a thing that glows in men's hearts forever.

Long after we have bid farewell to ivy-covered halls and stepped into the future we will remember . . . a certain smile from across campus that made our whole day seem brighter . . . afternoons when companionship radiated a warmth of its own to golden autumn days . . . shared experiences over cups of coffee at the "Corner Greeks" . . . "bull sessions" in the dorm that lasted far into the night. Moments like these will forever remain in our memories because they were shared with another.

*F*riendships

Not only has the companionship of the student body added a richness to our years at William and Mary, but also, the consistent willingness of the faculty to be of assistance to students, and the friendly relations existing between the two, have given us a deeper insight to the meaning of the word "friendship."

Experiences . . . treasured moments . . . thoughts and ideas . . . love . . . these are the bonds of friendship that link us with others forever.

Dedication

RICHARD LEE MORTON

A SCHOLAR: whose contribution to the intellectual climate of William and Mary has been of considerable magnitude.

AN EDUCATOR: whose insight has opened many a realm of speculation.

AN AUTHOR: whose books on Virginia history have led to his recognition as one of the leading authorities in his field.

A FRIEND: whose willingness to advise and encourage students has earned their deep appreciation.

A DEDICATED MAN: whose loyal service to the College for forty years both as a professor and as head of the History Department has been an inspiration to many.

We feel humbly grateful in being able to dedicate the 1959 COLONIAL ECHO to Dr. Richard Lee Morton, a man admired and respected by the student body, the faculty, and the community at large.

THE BOARD OF VISITORS

The Board of Visitors, the governing body of the College of William and Mary, is appointed by the Governor of Virginia and confirmed by the General Assembly. The term of office for each member is four years, no one member being able to serve over two successive terms. It is composed of ten members, at least six of whom must be alumni of the College, plus an ex officio member, the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The rights, powers, and duties of the Board are to control and expend funds of the College; make all needful rules and regulations concerning the College; appoint the President and all professors, teachers, and agents; fix tuition and fees; and confer degrees.

James M. Robertson served as Rector for the Board of Visitors for this year; and Mrs. Philip W. Hiden served as Vice-Rector.

THE PRESIDENT

Alvin Duke Chandler, since his inauguration as President of the College in 1952, has set a high example of devoted, able, upright, and self-effacing leadership. He has maintained the standards of academic excellency for which William and Mary is noted; and has made great forward strides to keep in step with the rapidly progressing educational system.

President and Mrs. Chandler have been gracious hosts to the college students; and warm representatives of the College and the country to many foreign visitors.

Dec. 10, 1950

Dear Miss Murray:

Under separate cover I am returning to you the photographs of the candidates for your "Miss William and Mary Contest for 1950-1951." Mr. Powers found all the girls so attractive that it was difficult to make a decision. However, after careful consideration on the basis of natural beauty and apparent poise, Mr. Powers chose the following girl to be "Miss William and Mary":

MISS TERRY WALKER

It was a pleasure to be able to help you and we send our best wishes and congratulations to Terry Walker.

Sincerely,
JOHN ROBERT POWERS

PHI BETA KAPPA

This year William and Mary was proud to celebrate the 182nd anniversary of the founding on December 5, 1776 of the first Phi Beta Kappa chapter. Phi Beta Kappa is now considered to be the most outstanding college honor society. The members are chosen on the basis of outstanding academic achievement.

The new members of Alpha chapter are tapped at each Fall and Spring Honors Convocation and are always initiated on December 5th. Initiation was held in the Apollo Room of the old Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall. After the initiation, a formal dinner was held in the Colony Room for members and guests. In the evening there was held a public meeting with guest speakers. Miss Mary May Sarton, author and poet, presented a program of selected poems, one of which was written especially for the occasion. Professor C. Vann Woodward, head of the History Department at the Johns Hopkins University, spoke on THE GOVERNANCE OF ACADEME. Following the program, a reception was held in the Dodge Room of the new Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

The 1958-1959 initiates were: Barton Ashman, Jane Boorman, Patricia Everard, Marion Funk, Barbara Knight, Paula Molineux, David Rice, James Roach, William Sterling, Stephen Topp, Dorothy Upton, and Therese Walker.

Fourteen members of the Class of 1959 were elected to Phi Beta Kappa at a meeting of the Alpha of Virginia Chapter, 13 April, 1959: Ann Walcutt Daingerfield, Hawthorne Antoine Davis, Malcolm Herbert Davis, Jr., Stuart Arthur Epstein, Garret Jay Etgen, Juanita Clairese Harrison, Karen Joyce Kelly, Daniel Upton Livermore, Jr., Barry Stuart Martin, Lois Jean Reid, Henry Allen Schwartz, Barbara Sue Singer, Karen Sabra Thomas, Natalie Martha Wright.

THE PRESIDENT'S AIDES

A specially designed medal bearing the seal of the College of William and Mary is in the possession of some few residents of the campus. This medal was designed by John Stuart Bryan who was President of the College in previous years. The students who have this medal are known as the President's Aides. John Stuart Bryan founded this representative body in 1935 for the purpose of serving as personal aides to the President. Today the Aides are those students who hold the following offices: President of the Student Body, Presidents of the Junior and Senior Classes, Chairmen of Men's and Women's Honor Councils, President of the Executive Committee of the Women Students' Cooperative Government Association, Chairman of the Judicial Committee, President of Omicron Delta Kappa, President of Mortar Board, and Editor of the Flat Hat. In addition, two members-at-large are selected from the students who excel in leadership. This year, due to an overlapping of responsibilities, three members-at-large served as Aides.

The body is chosen immediately upon return to the College in the fall. Their first activity is the attendance of a formal dinner at the President's House.

As outstanding students in the many phases of college life, the Aides are very capable in performing their duties of receiving, escorting and entertaining guests of the President at Convocations and other events. Prominent in this year's activities were the celebrations of Peninsula Day, and Burgesses Day. At this time, the Aides acted as hosts and hostesses to representative state legislators, escorting them to luncheon and to various points as the day's activities advanced.

The President and Mrs. Chandler were the honored guests of a tea in the Brafferton Lounge which was given by the Aides.

The President's Aides which are chosen by the President and his wife serve in any and all capacities which require representation of the student body.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

In 1914, Omicron Delta Kappa was founded as a National Honorary Fraternity to carry out the purposes of acknowledging high achievement and efficiency in college activities, bringing together men representative of all phases of college life for cooperation in worth-while endeavor, and uniting members of the faculty and the student body on the basis of mutual interest and understanding.

The Eta Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa was established at William and Mary in 1921. New members are tapped twice a year at either an Honors Convocation or a banquet in honor of the new initiates. It is inevitable that the members of ODK are among the leaders on campus since, by national rules, candidates must be among the upper twenty-five percent of their respective academic classes; and since the local Circle considers the candidates' contributions to the college community through athletics, publications, religious organizations, and social fraternities.

Local projects of the Fraternity include sponsoring the Spring Leadership Forum which is composed of a representative from each campus organization. The Forum discusses current problems. A semi-annual contribution to the College library of twenty-five dollars for the purchase of an American biography is another project of the ODK's. The ODK-Faculty basketball game during Campus Chest Week provides another source of activity for the benefit of the Chest and the ODK members.

MORTAR BOARD

Mortar Board is a Senior Women's Honor Society whose membership is based on service, leadership, and scholarship during the previous three years on the campus. The College of William and Mary's Gamma chapter was founded in 1925. Outstanding Junior women who meet the academic requirements and who actively participate in campus organizations are recognized by a tapping ceremony at the Spring Honors Convocation.

Among the activities featured in the fall was the annual sale of used furniture. Throughout the year, students and faculty may enjoy the concert series which is sponsored by Mortar Board. Arrangements for buses to the concerts are made by this group. This year, the Robert Shaw Chorale and the Philadelphia Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Eugene Ormandy were heard at the Mosque in Richmond.

On campus, Mortar Board supplies magazines to the girls' dormitories. Having been honored for their service to the school, the members of the group in turn commend the merits of others. Each year the Board recognizes the achievements of an outstanding freshman woman. A sophomore who has the highest academic rating at the College is also commended. The award is an engraved silver bracelet. Among other awards given by this group is a scholarship awarded on the basis of need. To stimulate student-teacher relations informal coffee hours are enjoyed.

Mortar Board is represented on various universities and campuses all over the United States. At present, their chapters number 102. It is to Mortar Board that women students look when pointing out women who have demonstrated their abilities in striving and attaining richer experiences for the benefit of others.

THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The scope of the Government of the Student Body here at William and Mary is best stated in the Preamble of its Constitution. "We, students of the College of William and Mary in Virginia, believing that there are common problems that can be resolved and common purposes that can be achieved through united effort; and believing that the traditions of student government at William and Mary should be preserved as a sure means of contributing to character and leadership; and desiring to assume responsibility in the management of our affairs, do hereby establish this constitution." The emphasis on the importance of student government as a united effort of the student body is re-echoed in the words of this year's President Gabriel Wilner. "Perhaps student government at the College ought to be thought of as a priority. It is certainly unique in that it does not represent an independent hierarchy but is a combination of every student group on campus." In accordance with this conception, Gabe has done an excellent job this year. He has revitalized the Student Assembly, advanced the influence of student government on the campus, and successfully attached new fields of student interest. As President of the Student Body, Gabe has provided a capable and informed leadership. The student body representatives should be congratulated for their active and effective participation in and leadership of the numerous committees that accomplish the work of Student Government.

The Student Assembly, which is the governing body, includes the officers of the Student Body, the officers and assembly representatives of the four classes. These representatives are elected by direct vote. Also serving in the Assembly are the principal officers of the Women Students' Cooperative Government Association; the Presidents of the Panhellenic Council and the Inter-Fraternity Council; and the chairmen of the Honor Councils. The graduate students at the College also elect a representative. The Chairman of the Assembly is the President of the Student Body.

The Senate, which is the principal committee of the Assembly, represents it on the General Cooperative Committee and serves as an advisory body to the officers of the Government of the Student Body. Chaired by the Vice President of the Student Body, James Brinkley, the Senate includes the four class presidents; the principal officers of W.S.C.G.A.; the chairmen of the Honor Councils; the Presidents of the Panhellenic Council and the Inter-Fraternity Council; and the President and the Secretary-Treasurer of the Student Body.

The General Cooperative Committee serves a coordinating function by recommending action to be taken by the Student Body to the President of the College. Its members are the entire Senate, four faculty representatives, the Deans, the Editor of the Flat Hat and the Executive Alumni Secretary.

The Government of the Student Body has had a successful and a productive year. An important advance was the procurement of a permanent, well-equipped office complete with files, calendar of events and telephone in Ewell Hall. Student Government Week was expanded and brought to a climatic close by a jazz concert featuring Dave Brubeck. The Inter-Club Council was formed and began to function effectively as a campus organization. The Pep Club and Student Body cooperated to sponsor Saturday night dances for all students. New committees were created to meet student needs such as the Blazer, Student Tour and the Hospitality Committees. The campus benefited from the pond clearance project and the boxwood landscaping under the direction of Dr. John T. Baldwin, Jr. We were all thankful for the innovation of short breakfasts which were served in the North Cafeteria until nine o'clock. Another area of effort was the attempts made to change the Alma Mater to the William and Mary Hymn.

The list of improvements and innovations in student government this year is significant. It marks a year in which the student government has capably and enthusiastically served as the voice of student desires. It fulfills the aim of the Government of the Student Body to represent all student groups on campus.

MEN'S HONOR COUNCIL

One of the most important priorities of the College of William and Mary is the honor system set up to encourage and maintain a strong code of honesty and responsibility on the campus.

The Men's Honor Council participated in explaining the honor system to the Freshmen during Orientation Week and followed up the duties of the Council during the rest of the year by helping at election polls and counting the ballots afterwards.

WOMEN'S HONOR COUNCIL

The Women's Honor Council, as an organized representative of the Honor System, has the duty of investigating reported infractions of the Honor Code, of holding Honor Trials and of recommending penalties for women students who have violated the provisions of the Honor Code.

The Women's Honor Council and the Men's Honor Council combine to hold informal discussions of the Honor System with the Freshmen during Orientation Week. Together the Councils assume the responsibility of sitting at the polls and of counting ballots in the student government elections.

The members of the Women's Honor Council for the 1958-59 session were: Jane Boorman, Chairman; Nancy Simmons, Vice Chairman; Judy Dickerson, Secretary; Joan English, Senior Member; Patti Lynn Adams and Roby Schrom, Junior Members; and Maureen Harvey and Beth Humrickhouse, Sophomore Members.

WOMEN STUDENTS' COOPERATIVE GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

President of the Executive Council

KAREN THOMAS
Chairman of the Judicial Council

The Women Students' Cooperative Government Association at William and Mary is the independent governing body of the women students. As such it provides the participants with valuable experience in self-government within the framework of student government.

"The purpose of this Association shall be to represent and further the best interests of the women students, to regulate their conduct under the authority of the College and to promote responsibility and a high sense of honor." With a regard for this threefold purpose as stated in the handbook, the Women Students'

Cooperative Government Association is divided into three councils: the Executive Council, the Judicial Council and the Honor Council. Implicit in the organization of the association is the cooperation between the three councils and between the women students as a whole.

The nucleus of the association is the Executive Council. This council handles the official business of the association. Holding the monthly WSCGA business meetings, appointing committees for the association's work, administering the WSCGA exam and conducting the election of officers to the three councils are just a few of the regular activities. The Executive Council also gives two $100 scholarships to deserving women students and provides a lighted tree at Christmas for the Wren Yard. The Executive Council consists of the general association officers: the president, the vice president, the secretary and the treasurer. The council also includes representatives from the classes, a day student representative and a representative-at-large. This year was the first in which a day student was elected to a position on the council.

The Judicial Council is the legislative body of the association. It is through this council that the social rules are enforced. By holding Judicial trials, the council determines social offenses and decides upon penalties for the offenders. The women students formulate and amend their social rules with the approval of the Judicial Council Advisors who are Dr. William Guy, Mr. Frank A. McDonald, and Mr. Marcel Reboussin.

The Judicial Council consists of a chairman, a secretary, representatives from the classes and a representative-at-large. The Dorm Council, which includes the presidents of the dormitories and the sorority house presidents, is a sub-division of the Judicial Council. The purpose of this council is to provide direct contact with the women students, to achieve a uniform enforcement of social rules and to discuss the dorm difficulties pertinent to social regulations.

The Women's Honor Council is the component of the association which maintains the Honor System by informing the student body of its value and purpose.

An extreme patience, a willingness to work, and an ability to guide and direct others within a framework are the characteristics which identify the able and loyal members of the hierarchy of the Women Students' Cooperative Government Association.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS COMMITTEE

The Student Publications Committee was established by the Student Assembly in order to maintain consistent standards of excellence for the College's student publications. At its monthly meetings, the committee discusses the general organization of the publications and formulates regulations governing their operation. It is the responsibility of the Student Publications Committee to select the editors of the campus publications. This responsibility of the Committee is perhaps the gravest of their purposes. The choice of editor is in itself the choice of having or not having the publications themselves. Thousands of dollars are invested in these works. The editors have the ultimate responsibilities for all of business angles and creative aspects of the publications. No amount of praise can fully acknowledge the hard and unselfish work put forth in the bleak and inadequate facilities of the offices where these publications are created. Hence, these devoted editors and the Student Publications Committee deserve praise and congratulations for their excellent work.

Under the leadership of the chairman, Harry Miller, who was elected by the Student Assembly, the committee changed the By-Laws regarding the term of office of the editors of the Flat Hat. Other members of the Committee included Penny Witzeman, Editor of the COLONIAL ECHO; Paul Wiedenmann, Editor of the Flat Hat; Missy Mott, Editor of the Royalist; and Gabe Wilner, President of the Student Body. Faculty members advising the Committee were Dr. Cecil McCulley, Dr. Alexander Kallos, and Mr. Richard D. Bullock.

THE COLONIAL ECHO

Friendships, Knowledge, Traditions—all these areas of campus life have been artistically and nostalgically portrayed in words and pictures in the 1959 COLONIAL ECHO.

To bring together in one bound volume the whole of the extensive experiences within a college is an impossible feat. The intrinsic values explored in the classroom; the companionships; the gaiety; the excitement and enthusiasm; these are but few of the ideas and feelings in which we participate and which the COLONIAL Echo attempted to include in its pages. To report, to anticipate and to record events we find a staff of competent and hardworking students.

Both of them hovered over the entire operation guiding, selecting, contributing in all the aspects. To make the activities and experiences vivid memories was the job of the Photography Editor, Charles Dudley. Co-operating and associating with him was Joanne Schubert, Organizations Editor, who schedules the details of the campus organizations pictures.

porting the activities of the campus organizations and expanding the theme of the yearbook. The fraternity news was gathered by Bill Ryan, Fraternity Editor and his counterpart was found in Lynne Hagen, Sorority Editor.

To add a touch of creative genius we find the Art Editor, Gary Silver, illustrating the book. Audrey Murray had the job of supervising the election of Miss William and Mary and the other features which represent the activities of the year. Sports Editor, Jack White, reported on the entire scope of athletic events throughout the campus. Nancy Grubbs set up the Girls' Sports section.

The staff was a willing body of workers who realized the importance and significance of their jobs. Each performed his particular function with enthusiastic devotion and at the end felt a pride in this, the 1958-1959 COLONIAL ECHO.

The Echo is thus a compilation of the happy memories and the essence of the spirit of the College of William and Mary.

THE FLAT HAT

Under the capable leadership of Paul Weidenmann, the 1958-59 Flat Hat experienced one of its most successful years of faithful and intelligent reporting on all campus news. With the efficient help of Associate Editor Clairese Harrison and Managing Editor Mary Jamieson, Paul was instrumental in changing the Flat Hat's editorial system by instituting an Editorial Board composed of the various Flat Hat editors and columnists. This board met weekly and discussed not only editorial topics but pertinent campus issues in preparation for future editions.

Further new wrinkles in this year's paper included the revival of the William and Mary Go-Round, the Faculty Voice, and the launching of two new sprightly columns—"Something Simple" by Glen Cayward and "Chotto Matte" written by Norman Burnett.

John Montgomery held the key junior editor's post of News Editor while Bill Clayton held the important position of Make-Up Editor, along with his other duties of writing headlines for many of the news stories. Zita King and Carolyn Wenger capably filled the jobs of Copy Editor and Feature Editor respectively, and both diligently searched the campus looking for new story "angles." Jack White brought new talent to the Sports section.

Abbe Furst with the help of the Editor-in-Chief did a tremendous job as Advertising Manager which resulted in raising advertising revenue more than 100%.

Business Manager, Skeets Mink, and Circulation Manager, Tom Madson, kept the money coming in and the paper going out, while photographers Jim Todd, Jim McKee, and Lacy Smith filled the pages with their artistry.

Much reorganization work was accomplished with the help of Publications Advisor Mr. Bullock who also worked with the editors in planning the entire office for the Flat Hat in the new Student Center.

The semesters of 1958-1959 was a year of creative activity throughout the campus. New clubs were started; expanded facilities made for more effective operation and a myriad of newsy items flooded into the office of the Flat Hat. The editors and staff responded to each message with such great success that the Tuesdays when the school paper was delivered was looked forward to with interest and anticipation by the students.

THE ROYALIST

One of the outlets for student creative writing on the William and Mary campus is the student literary magazine, The Royalist. Published biennially, the Royalist accepts short stories, narratives, poems, book and play reviews, and topics of dramatic interest for critical evaluation and eventual publication. The review and comment is made primarily by the Critical Staff. The Editorial Board functions to evaluate and make decisions as to the final selections which are to appear in the magazine.

Each manuscript is submitted anonymously and is carefully read by each member of both staffs before the weekly meetings. These spirited meetings select the entries on the basis of literary merit and reader appeal.

Heading the Editorial Board for the 1958-1959 session was Missy Mott, Editor-in-Chief; and Norman Burnett, Associate Editor. Other members of the Editorial Board were selected from the Critical Staff and chosen for their abilities in critical analysis.

Upon selection, the manuscripts are turned over to The Art Staff. This year Bev Harris headed this group which reads the pieces of writing and illustrates the theme of the respective stories and poems. To them goes the credit for the design of the attractive and imaginative covers.

THE SEMINAR

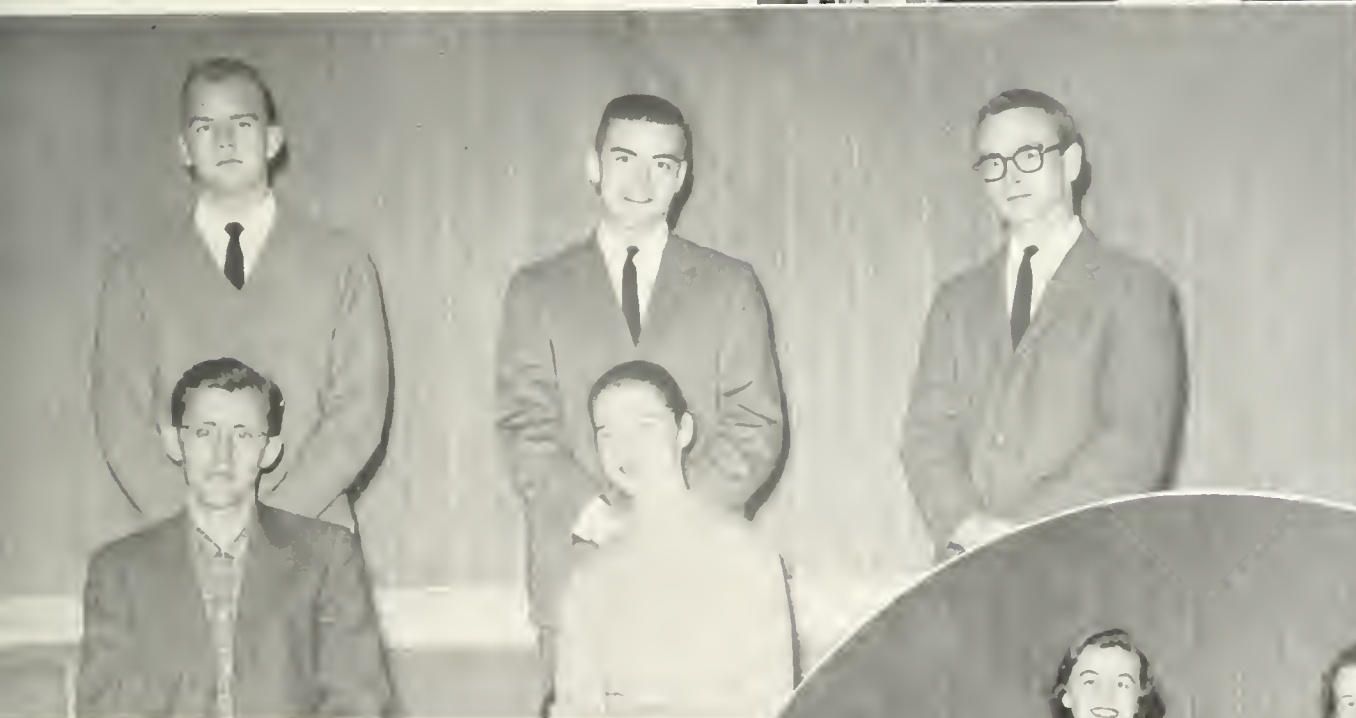

The Seminar, an intellectual magazine dedicated to serious and thought-provoking writing, seeks to be a testing ground for new ideas and theories. The purpose of the Seminar is to provide an opportunity for students and faculty to express their ideas and opinions on various topics and issues.

The Editor-in-Chief this year was Barbara Brant Knight, with Sally Williams as Managing Editor, and Lynne Hagen as Business Manager. The Editorial Board consisted of Jeanne Tracy, Ken Simonson, Tom Lipscomb, Ted Parks, John Stephenson, and Bill Ryan. The Editorial Board is responsible for the selection of material for articles and art work. Advisors to this publication were Miss Elizabeth Stucky, Mr. Leroy Smith and Mr. Edwin Rhyne.

The staff sincerely feels that each year the Seminar is closer to realizing its ideal of producing an interesting and worth-while achievement as an outlet for non-fiction writing and stimulating thought and discussion among the readers of the journal.

WILLIAM AND

Directed by the masterful Dr. Carl A. Fehr, the William and Mary Choir enjoyed another year of rewarding effort in its attempts to bring meaningful experience in music to the College and broaden its outstanding reputation through successful and widespread tours.

The sixty-nine members of the Choir were selected after a competitive audition in the fall. They began their year by presenting several selections at the Orientation picnic at Matoaka Lake. The rigorous schedule of rehearsals were appreciated as the Choir added an inspiring chord to the opening Convocation at Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

In October, members of the Choir represented William and Mary at the College Choir Clinic which is sponsored by the Virginia Educational Association and held in Richmond.

The Christmas concert culminated many weeks of striving to perfect in quality music appropriated to the season. The program presented Britten's "A Ceremony of Carols"; "Quatre Motets

MARY CHOIR

"Pour Le Temps de Noel" by the contemporary French Composer, Poulenc; a cantata by Bach; "For Us a Child is Born"; and a series of lighter Christmas Songs. The Choir then enjoyed their annual Christmas party.

As soon as the Christmas holidays were over, work was begun on music for the Spring Concert, and the big event of the year—the tour, which took them up the East Coast.

Following this, for the first time a concert was given by the combined Choir of the College of William and Mary and the University of Richmond Choir. Other recurring events were a banquet in the spring at which time new officers and deserving members were rewarded and renditions in Wren Chapel services and all convocations.

The finale of the year's activities was achieved by participation in Commencement Activities.

CHORUS

The William and Mary Chorus, under the direction of Dr. Carl A. Fehr, is composed of seventy-five girls who have shown an interest in group singing and have demonstrated their capabilities through a general audition. The Chorus is a truly wonderful experience and is the preparation and training for the William and Mary Choir.

The Chorus often participates in the regular Wednesday night services in Wren Chapel. This year they performed the Christmas Chapel program at the Methodist Church. A half-hour of traditional Christmas Music was enjoyed by a large number of students.

In the spring, the Chorus gave open air concerts on several occasions. They were accompanied by the Band and their stage was the Wren Porch with a gallery of students sitting on the campus green.

As a stepping stone to a treasured membership in the Choir, the Chorus works diligently to improve the quality of tone and skill in technique under the exacting supervision of "Pappy" Fehr. They present their music with a fresh and vigorous enthusiasm. It is always a treat to hear the Chorus perform.

BAND

The William and Mary Band, meeting under the direction of Mr. Charles R. Varner, utilizes the capabilities of students interested and experienced in band music. The year falls into two seasons. In the Fall, the spirit of football brings out the talents of the Marching Band. Here the emphasis is placed on precision in marching and formation. Besides marching in pre-game and half-time formations, the band rouses the enthusiasm of the cheerers at pep rallies, and participates in the Homecoming Parade.

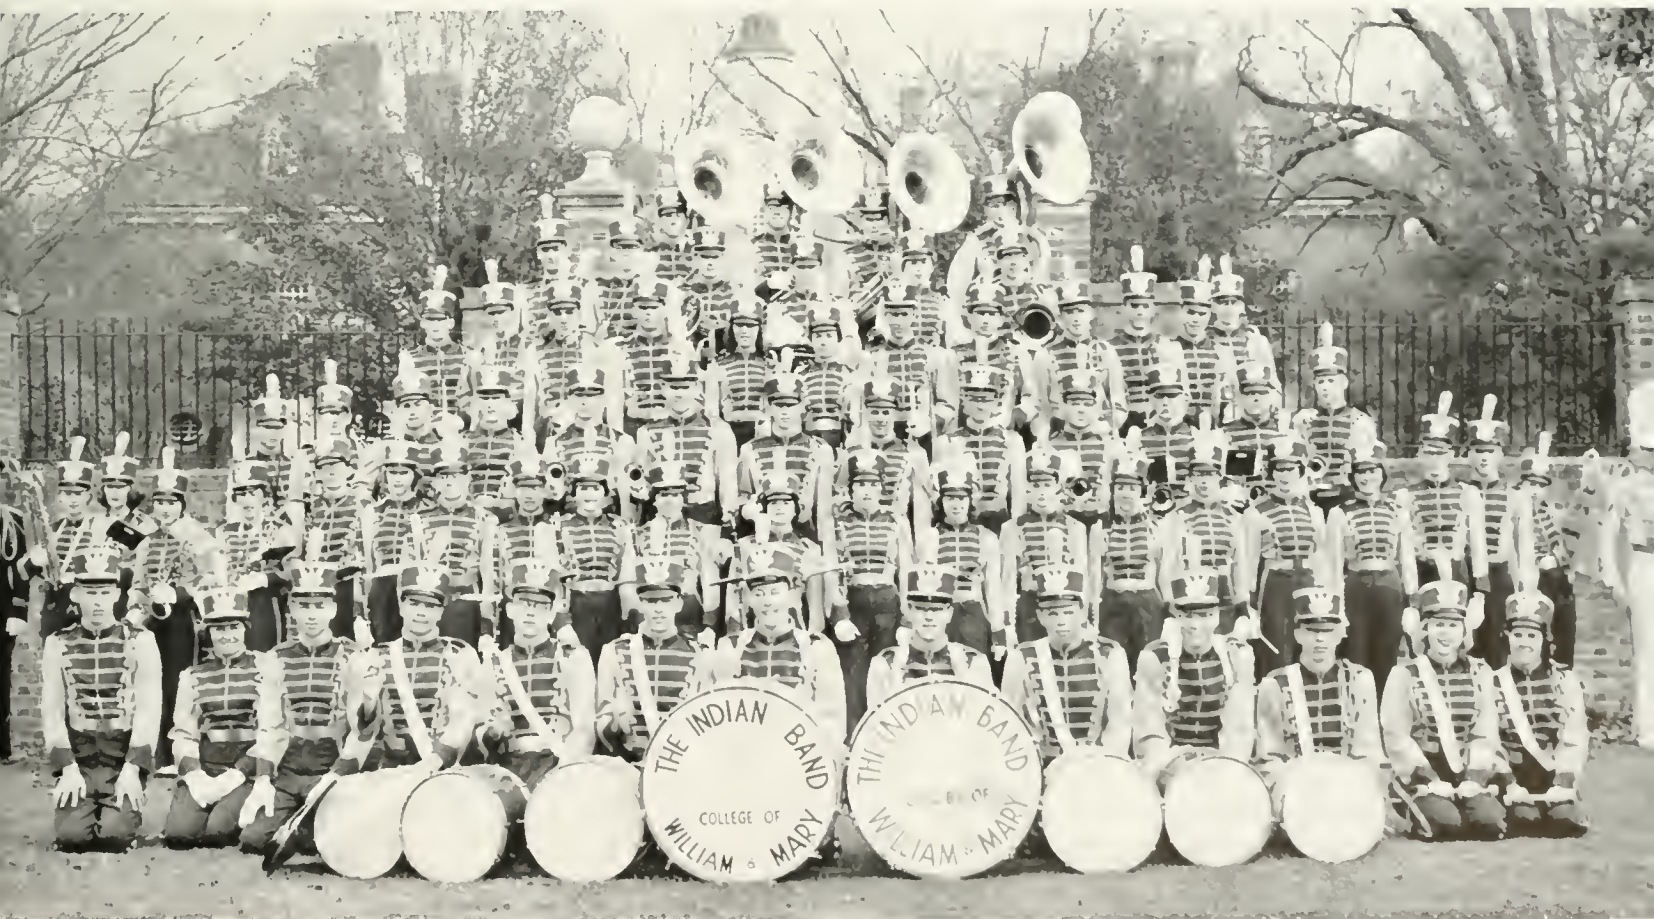

A complete metamorphosis is experienced by the band members immediately upon the culmination of the football season. The blaring of the football marches, so familiar to band members, must be transformed to muted dynamics for the special band concert marches and other popular and classical pieces. The perfection of these tones was enjoyed by the students at large in the annual Spring Concert and the concerts in Wren Yard. This year, the band had an opportunity to display their repertoire in the surrounding areas.

WILLIAM AND

The Mad Woman At Tea

Scene from "The Mad Woman of Chailot"

The William and Mary Theater is a significant contribution to students as members of the audience or as the participants. The staff is composed of four professionally trained members of the faculty of Fine Arts. Participation in all forms of dramatic work is provided to students through courses in the Department of Fine Arts and through extra-curricular activity. Tryouts for parts in plays are open to all students and casting is based on a competitive process with the intent to assemble the best qualified people for public performances. The production crews are basically composed of members of the classes in stagecraft, lighting, and design and costume, but emphasis is also placed on the opportunity for all students to volunteer to serve on committees of buildings, painting, sewing, making of properties, publicity, ushering, and box office management. Every production is a learning process for everyone participating.

The William and Mary Theater presented Wilder's THE MATCHMAKER to an enthusiastic audience during March, 1958. This play was given to celebrate International Theatre Month. William and Mary Theater was the first organization to present this witty farce in the state of Virginia.

OTHELLO was given on Shakespeare's birthday. This production made use of the orchestra lift, thus allowing the actor and audience a closer contact with the scenes.

The Backdrop Club is an organization which annually presents a musical comedy for the entertainment of the students of the College. In past years the shows were written, produced, directed, and acted by the students themselves. This year, in order to give the members of the Club experience in putting on a professional show, they chose to present a Broadway production.

Last year's show, written by Sheila Kessler and Pete Neufeld, was entitled ASSIGNMENT: PARIS. The story concerned several American reporters who were sent to Paris to cover the wedding of a duke to an American actress-socialite. The plot became involved when an old love affair between one of the women reporters and the duke became re-vitalized. Humorous situations develop and of course, as in all musical comedies, the ending was a happy one. Some of the songs from the show included: Samantha's Back in Town, A Wonderful Day, Lucky Star—Lucky Me, and Assignment: Paris. The production was ably directed by Pete Neufeld.

RESERVE OFFICERS

Established in 1947, and now with an enrollment of 389 men, the largest in the history of the unit, the Reserve Officers Training Corps, ROTC, at William and Mary prepares college men for commissions as second lieutenants in the Army Reserve and the Regular Army.

Originally founded as a field artillery unit, the Department of Military Science and Tactics converted to a General Military Science Unit in 1954 and now prepares cadets for any branch of the Army they desire.

ROTC is a four-year college program divided into a two-year Basic Course for freshmen and sophomores and a two-year Advanced Course for juniors and seniors. Upon graduation the ROTC student is a candidate for appointment as a second lieutenant in the United States Army Reserve. Outstanding students who are designated as Distinguished Military Graduates are eligible for commissions in the Regular Army. The basic course consists of instruction in individual and crew served weapons, American Military History, map reading, and drill. The advanced course consists of instruction in small unit tactics, organizations and functions of the arms and services, military operations, logistics, small unit administration, advanced leadership training, and drill.

At the end of the junior year the cadets spend six weeks at an ROTC summer camp which serves as the concentrated field laboratory course in military tactics. During that period the students apply the military theories learned in the classroom. Bivouacs, map problems, field exercises, operation and employment of the latest weapons and equipment characterize the summer training program. This year the camp was held at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

The unit also sponsors and supports a variety of special activities; these include Seaboard and Blade, a national honorary military society, a drill team, drum and bugle corps, and a rifle team.

The outstanding activities for the 1958-1959 school year included reviews to honor distinguished cadets and parades such as the Armed Forces Day Parade, the Homecoming and the Christmas parades. The annual social event of the Corps, the Military Ball, was held in the spring period.

The Corps is formed into an infantry battalion of three rifle companies and a headquarters company. Cadet commanders of the respective companies were: John L. Sibley, Company A; Robert C. Brown, Company B; and George E. Schaubach, Company C. The Headquarters Company, which is composed of the drum and bugle corps and the drill team, was led by Junius W. Camp. James W. Brinkley served as cadet commander of the Corps, Dan A. Plummer as executive officer, Willard Morris as adjutant, Don S. Miller as public information officer, Garret J. Etgen as operations officer, and Kenneth S. Mink as administrative and supply officer. Lieutenant Colonel James M. Carson was Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

The Marshall-Wythe Debate Tournament is sponsored annually by the Intercollegiate Debate Council. Every year schools participate in a two-day tournament held in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall. The thirty schools attend a banquet at the culmination of these verbal gymnastics at which time team awards are made. During the tournament, visiting delegates are entertained at various receptions, banquets and dances on campus. Student attendance of these debates is encouraged and the popularity of this event increases with each year.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE COUNCIL

The Intercollegiate Debate Council at the College of William and Mary strives to foster an interest among students in oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and debating. Debating is the only college activity which brings students together in direct competition on an academic level. As such it is a stimulating and rewarding experience.

Each year, William and Mary debaters travel to more than fifteen tournaments among thirty colleges and cover approximately 10,000 miles. The schools visited this year included Wake Forest, University of Virginia, Johns Hopkins University, Dartmouth, Georgetown University, University of Pittsburgh, Miami University, Rutgers, and the Naval Academy. An easily recognized stiff chorus of opponents, the debaters, nevertheless, proudly took first place honors in the University of Maryland Invitational, placed second at the Naval Academy's tournament, and won both first and second place in the Virginia Tau Kappa Alpha tournament during the early season competition.

In addition the Marshall-Wythe Debate tournament is sponsored by the Council annually. At the Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall, February sixth and seventh, the Council served as host to over 150 college students from thirty colleges all over the nation. Many William and Mary students helped to take part in the tournament by timing the debates and directing visitors.

Other activities this year included debate and discussion programs for local community organizations and for radio and television outlets in Richmond and Norfolk. The students also presented several television panels. On January 17, a workshop was held for Virginia high school debate teams. Included in the program were a panel discussion on the techniques of debating and an exhibition debate given by members of the Council. Through such activities the Intercollegiate Debate Council enriches and stimulates academic activities on campus.

The first introduction to college is a lasting and determining one, and to it each individual experiences a different reaction. The College of William and Mary is aware of the importance of this Orientation Period and has provided a group known as the Orientation Sponsors and Group Leaders who are chosen each spring to serve as guides and advisors for the incoming Freshman class in the fall. They are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and character—qualities necessary to adequately perform this service to the school.

To aid the Sponsors in their duties, a four-week training program is held in the spring. This program includes lectures by the Deans, faculty members and students, and deals with subjects ranging from the academic requirements for graduation to sorority and fraternity life.

The Sponsors and Group Leaders play a very important role in the adjustment and orientation of the Freshman students, not only for the first weeks of school, but also throughout the entire year.

THE PEP CLUB

Responding to the need for a vitalization of an elusive school spirit, the Pep Club took broad and successful measures to generate enthusiasm among the students. The general purpose of the Pep Club is to promote school spirit. This spirit has previously been centered around the support of athletic contests. This year the Pep Club, under the creative leadership of Steve Oaks, increased the scope of its activities. Most successful was the sponsoring of informal dances in the Colony Room to climax a football or basketball game.

In accordance with the regular functions of the Club, the pep rallies were organized before each home football game.

Homecoming provided special opportunities for work. The Pep Club constructed the float to carry the Homecoming Queen and her court. Earlier this year, a bus trip was arranged to carry an enthusiastic group of rooters to the William and Mary versus Navy football game. With such a variety of activities it is clear that William and Mary's spirited Pep Club fulfilled its purposes.

Hello from sorority court!

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Pan-Hellenic Council is composed of representatives from each of the nine sororities on campus who discuss various questions pertaining to sorority life. The Pan-Hellenic Council is busiest during the fall and spring rushing periods, for it regulates and determines the many parties given, and also concerns itself with the numerous questions involved with rushees and sororities alike. Soon after fall rushing is over, the Council meets to discuss the advantages and disadvantages of the rushing program and each representative, after discussing the subject with her respective sorority, submits her suggestions to the Council on the planning and organization of the following year's rush program. The Council then votes on the various suggestions and a decision is made. The sororities then begin planning and organizing their next year's program in accordance with the Council's decision. The Council, in addition to rushing, awards yearly scholarships to deserving women, edits and publishes sorority information in its pamphlet "Greek Notes," and sponsors a Pan-Hellenic benefit bridge. The Pan-Hellenic Council is represented nationally by the National Pan-Hellenic Conference which consists of representatives of all national sororities. The primary purpose of the National Pan-Hellenic Conference is to promote scholarship and a better relationship among all sororities.

Although the William and Mary athletic scene for the 1958-59 school year could not be rated as exceptional, the Reservation athletic department did meet with moderate success overall and in isolated cases had outstanding performances. Still in the process of what has been called the initial phase of an extensive building program and a goal of reaching the big time, athletic director Milt Drewer and his staff have done a fine job in the limited time of only two years. The wheels of progress have been slowed down on occasion for lack of funds and facilities, but with increasing alumni support and time, the prospects for better days are exceedingly bright. One of the newest programs is plans for a varsity wrestling squad for the 1959-60 school year.

Last fall, lack of depth and a long list of injuries again interfered with Drewer's plans for a .500 or better football season. Two fine victories over North Carolina

State and Richmond keep the slate from being a complete failure, and a good Papoose squad makes the future bright. Basketball mentor Bill Chambers again produced a Southern Conference power, finishing the regular hoop season with a 12-10 record, including impressive victories over GW and Virginia Tech, and a record-breaking swamp of W&L.

Harry Groves continued to show that he is one of the top men in the East in his coaching field, as his three thin clad teams were again big powers in the Southern Conference. The cross-country team came in second, and the indoor track managed third without a fieldhouse, not to mention the excellent showing made in the outdoor season. Down at the Blow Gym pool, Dudley Jensen's swimming squad splashed to a respectable 4-5 season, despite a crucial lack of depth. Except for tennis, where Bob Gill's club had been reduced to only three returning performers, the spring sports made a good showing. Joe Mark coached a sparkling golf team, which had its best season in several years, while we hope the baseball team, donning its new uniforms, under the direction of Ed Derringe, did rebound smartly after last year's disappointing season.

THE CHEERLEADERS

The tireless dancing shuffle of Bruiser Camp and the energy of the squad of cheerleaders merit much praise and commendation. It is the purpose of the Cheerleaders to stimulate and hold student interest and spirit. Working in cooperation with the Pep Club, the group leads the student body in cheers at each football rally and in the Snake at Homecoming; that whiplike parade of students which passes through dormitories after the annual bonfire on the hockey field.

The squad this year consisted of three girls in the costume of Indians, eight cheerleaders, and a head cheerleader. The leader is chosen by the rest of the group. Ever-enthusiastic, no matter what the score or the weather is, the cheerleaders follow the William and Mary Indians to the rainy fields at Annapolis to the sunny fields on the home gridiron. In recognition of their support they are awarded annually by the Pep Club. Membership is attained by tryouts which are held in the early spring, and all students are eligible.

Boys who have won their varsity letters in any inter-collegiate sport that is College-sanctioned are eligible for membership in the Varsity Club. Now in their 44th year at William and Mary, the club's membership includes a letterman representing each team sport.

The organization's main interest and purpose is the furthering of the intramural and athletic programs for men at the College, promoting sportsmanlike conduct on and off campus and aiding in the interests of athletics in general. The proceeds from the club's various projects are turned over to the intramural and athletic programs at the college for their use.

One of the highlights of the year was the annual crowning of the basketball queen. Another activity was the support of a "Keep Off the Grass" campaign which surely contributed to the welfare and beauty of the campus grounds.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Aspirations for an outstanding football team on the Reservation in the fall of 1958 were frequently justified but hardly ever realized as the season rolled thru its nine-game course. With athletic director Milt Drewer, former Randolph-Macon star, at the grid helm for his second year, and aided by a fine staff of Bill Chambers, Dave Nusz, Joe Mark, and Ed Derringer, the Big Green, after a surprising 4-6 record in 1957, appeared on the verge of one of its finest seasons in several years. In addition to its two fine co-captains Dan Plummer and Tom Secules, the Indians had a veteran backfield, outstanding ends and tackles, and plenty of competition up the middle. However, although by no means a failure, the season did not work out as expected.

The first four games on the slate were very impressive and it was hoped that things would start rolling. Lesser experienced hands were rapidly shaping up, but, as fate would have it, for every new veteran that was developed, two men would become injured. A surprising, if not astonishing, series of injuries and bad breaks plunged the Tribe into a four-defeat tailspin, and only for the final game Turkey Bowl contest did the team manage its expectations.

In spite of the 2-6-1 final record, much can be said about the 1958 team. Three seniors were pro draft choices, fullback Len Rubal and tackle Elliot Schaubach were top men in the Southern Conference, the pass defense ranked high in the nation, the passing attack showed considerable improvement, and the overall offense made great strides, especially in the ball handling department. A small handful of breaks or lack of them on the opposition's part could easily have produced the winning combination. Indeed, the official's unprecedented "error in judgment" on the Navy six-inch line set the stage for a series of costly oddities! Actually, except for punting and total yards rushing, the Big Green made a fine showing statistically, especially in passing where 55 completions picked up 720 yards.

Besides the tremendous victories over North Carolina State and Richmond, the season's most pleasant surprise was the freshman team. Under the tutelage of Boyd Baird and assistants Joe Agee and Larry Peccatiello, the spirited lowerclassmen did a splendid job and gave signs of a bright gridiron future in rolling up a 4-1 season.

Grid Team Loses To Middies 14-0 Despite Potent Passing Attack

With high hopes of having the first .500 or better season at William and Mary since 1954, the Big Green, under the tutelage of Athletic Director and Head Coach Milt Drewer, initiated the 1958 football with the powerful Navy Middies at Annapolis.

Playing in the mud and sog of hurricane rains, the Tribe struggled brilliantly for four quarters, only to drop a disappointing 14-0 decision. Victory slipped from the Indians' grasp, as the Middies had all the breaks go their way.

Lead by the stellar play of quarterback Joe Tranchini, one of the nation's top quarterbacks from Clairton, Pa., the Navy machine drew first blood late in the second quarter. A fumble while attempting to punt by senior Brave halfback Dave Edmunds gave the Middies the pigskin on the William and Mary 23. Captain Dick Dagampat circled left end for five yards. Left halfback Joe Bellino was stopped for no gain around the right side, but then hit the middle for a quick five yards. Fullback Joe Matalavage bulled for seven to the five for a first down. Dagampat, Bellino, and Tranchini made three yards inside the tackles, but on fourth down Tranchini slipped off right tackle for the score. Matalavage made the two point conversion to the middle.

After playing splendid defense for three quarters, the depthless Tribe finally weakened in the final period, as the Sailors pounded out 61 yards in 11 running and two passing plays. Matalavage, only a sophomore, sparked the drive by knocking off 24 yards in four carries. The Sailors tallied when Tranchini fired a two yard fourth down aerial to Matalavage. The middle of the Big Green forced a backfield fumble on the conversion attempt.

The worst break against the Indians came at the end of the first half when time ran out with the ball on the Navy one-half yard line. Attempting to find drier ground, an official picked the ball up three separate times, while the last 19 seconds ticked off the clock.

In spite of the rain, this was one of the Tribe's best passing days in several seasons. Indian of the Week senior quarterback Tom Secules from Williamsport, Pa. completed seven out of nine passes for a total of 137 yards. Mike Chunta and Len Rubal lead in rushing for the Reservation crew with 28 yards each.

Tribe Stopped By Tech Gobblers With Edmunds Starring In Defeat

After absorbing such a disappointing loss at the hands of Navy, the Big Green, lacking somewhat in depth, jumped off to an early first quarter lead against Virginia Tech, but later weakened from the drive of the Gobbler machine and managed to score only once more, as Coach Frank Moseley's charges turned a startling 27-15 victory.

Capitalizing on one of its few breaks during the season, the Tribe drew first blood with 5:15 remaining in the initial period. The Indians originated the drive toward the Gobbler goal immediately after a Tech signal-caller Billy Holselaw quick kick of 66 yards rolled dead on the Reservation doorstep. Len Rubal and Mike Chunta moved the ball out to the six yard line. When Jay Whitesell attempted to return Dave Edmunds' 40 yard punt, hard Brave tackling shook loose a fumble which Gray Lynn recovered. Chunta smashed off left tackle for 13 and Edmunds strode 16 more to the W&M 19. A passing attack bogged down, and a punt and a clipping penalty by Tech pushed the Blacksburgers back to their own 12. The Big Green forward wall led by tackle Elliot Schaubach stopped the Birds cold for three plays as big Al Crow pounced on a fumble on the 17. Tom Secules then faded back and fired Dan Plummer who drove for the score. Edmunds slipped over for the extra points.

The Gobblers, who rated as one of the top teams in the Southern Conference, scored once in the second, twice in the third, and once in the fourth period to obtain their winning margin. Using a balanced running and passing attack, four different men hit pay dirt under the direction of Holselaw. Completing nine out of 16 passes during the game, Holselaw fired seven yards to end Carroll Dale for the first. Thirteen plays after the second half kickoff, Whitesell plowed in from the two. Less than three minutes later, Dickie Snead terminated a 53 yard drive with a two yard plunge. Halfback Pat Henry wrapped the scoring up by crossing over left tackle from the seven in the last quarter.

Following the first Tech touchdown, the Tribe rebounded beautifully. Edmunds returned the kickoff to his 12. Secules rambled to the Gobbler 31 on a keeper, and Edmunds fired down to the four. Secules made it to the one, where Edmunds plunged over. Rubal then split the uprights. Edmunds, senior right halfback from Roanoke, Va., was declared Indian of the Week for his outstanding performance on both offense and defense. The 160-pound speedster had 70 yards rushing in nine carries and averaged 10.5 yards for eight punts, all while playing over 50 minutes on an injured ankle.

Injuns, Keydets Battle To 6-6 Tie As Lenny Rubal Makes Stellar Run

Resurging after two straight losses, the Reservation crew played a brilliant defensive game, making several tremendous goal line stands late in the second half, and partially revenged last year's 14-13 defeat to tie the highly rated VMI Keydets 6-6 up in Bluefield in a thrilling Coal Bowl grid clash.

Spectacular alertness by Lenny "Boom Boom" Rubal, 215 pound senior fullback from Windber, Pa., produced the Indians' only touchdown. Midway through the third quarter, with the score 6-0 in favor of the Keydets, sophomore halfback Jim Porach from Hershey, Pa. punting from his own end zone, booted the pigskin out of bounds on the Tribe 39 yard line. With Bill Nebraska at the controls, Soldier halfback Art Brandriff made no gain. Fullback Pete Johnson next picked up three yards off tackle. The Keydet backfield then rolled to the right, the pitch out going to Brandriff who bobbled the ball. As the ball popped high in the air toward the line of scrimmage, Rubal moved up quickly from his outside line-backer's position, gracefully picked the spheroid off his shoe tops, and with two teammates at his heels raced 65 yards to score. Because of a strong cross-wind, the extra point attempt was blown wide.

Virginia Military also took advantage of an offensive lapse to score their sole touchdown. The Keydets punted to the Braves' 35, which Mike Chunta returned nine yards. Two big penalties and a ten yard loss by Tom Seacles attempting to pass put the ball back on the 25. Keydet linebacker Johnson smashed through to block the punt attempt, which was smothered on the seven yard line. Halfback Sam Horner, who couldn't "get round the corner" all afternoon, picked up two yards before Johnson barrelled up the middle to score. Johnson's attempt was no good.

The Braves almost opened the game up early in the second period, but a 54-yard drive was halted on the VMI 12, where a field goal attempt was blown wide. The host team rallied desperately in the closing seconds, as two hurried field goal tries were no good. Indian of the Week Elliot Schaubach was one of the many outstanding defensive players who preserved the Coal Bowl tie.

Indians Devastate Wolfpack 13-6 For Initial Victory of 1958 Season

Already realizing the impact of a long injury list, the Big Green grid team achieved one of the high points of the 1958 season, when it continued its dominance over North Carolina State, under the Drewes regime, and pulled off a stunning upset for the second year in a row to defeat the Wolfpack 13-6 before a large home crowd at Cary Field in Williamsburg.

Playing for injured Tom Secules, two sophomore quarterbacks, Wayne Check from Baltimore, Md. and Bob Stoy from Somerset, Pa. engineered the Indians to victory with a consistent running attack throughout the clash. The Tribe was barely edged in nearly every statistic including the toss of the coin, but solid play from each player contained the Pack and helped to produce the fourth quarter victory.

Check coolly masterminded the first score early in the second period, as Mike Chunta, the "locomotive runner", returned Ken Trowbridge's punt 13 yards to the Big Green 24. Junior fullback Lauren Kardatzke from Elmore, Ohio, the hero of the drive, brusted off tackle and trampled 49 markers to the State 27. Chunta raced 12 more to the 15 and Richie Snyder picked up four. Chunta and Kardatzke smashed for the first down on the five. The middle of the line opened a huge hole and Kardatzke went flying in to score.

State's only touchdown was tallied a third of the way through the last quarter, when the Injuns, backed into a hole from an earlier Pack drive, punted to their own 42. The Carolinians, clicking their only time during the game, reeled off the yardage in four plays. The key run, 26 yards by Trowbridge, put the pigskin on the one, where Arnie Nelson plunged over to score.

The Reservation team bounced right back with Indian of the Week Stoy at the helm. Following the kick-off Dave Edmunds quickkicked 50 yards to the Pack 24, and then recovered Trowbridge's fumble on the next play. Edmunds took a pitch out to the right and completed to the sure hands of Ed Brusko on the seven. Two plays later, Stoy scored on a keeper, with Len Rubal adding the conversion.

Aroused Colonials Upset Tribe 7-0 As GW Capitalizes On W&M Fumble

From a successful weekend which saw Milt Drewer's version of the belly series click to perfection, the Indians, playing at night under the lights at Griffith Stadium in Washington, next ran into a stalwart grid defense by GW University, and unable to organize prolonged offensives, the Reservation crew took it on the nose from the Colonials 7-0 in a game which saw the pigskin change hands a total of 28 times.

The Drewermen actually played a terrific defensive game, and, had it not been for one offensive lapse, which the home team capitalized on, the final score might have been a 0-0 tie. GW's only touchdown occurred with three minutes left in the first half. The ball had changed hands 14 times, with each team penetrating inside the opponent's 30 yard line only once. William and Mary drove inside the GW 22 the second time they took possession, and the Colonials later moved to the Braves' 15, however, stellar defensive play halted both threats as fourth down attempts failed. A Dave Edmunds quick kick pushed GW back to its 17 and two plays later Tribe tackle Stan Pokrywka recovered Ted Colna's fumble. Wayne Cheek completed a short pass to Mike Chunta, but the series ended on fourth down. The Colonials started a march, picked up two first downs, but the Big Green buckled down and recovered a second Colna bobble off his 48. A 15 yard holding penalty, two seven yard losses attempting to pass, only one gain, a 13 yard aerial from Bob Stoy to Edmunds, and a five yard penalty for delaying put the Indians in a last down situation on their own 27. The biggest break of the contest came to the Colonials, when the Redskin punter fumbled the hike from center. Led by All-Southern Conference tackle Ed Rutesh, GW tackled the ball carrier on the Tribe 14. Tom Haly carried for three yards and Colna circled right end for the first down. With the ball resting inside the one yard line, fullback Duane Whetstone plunged for the touchdown. Bob Barbieri kicked the extra point.

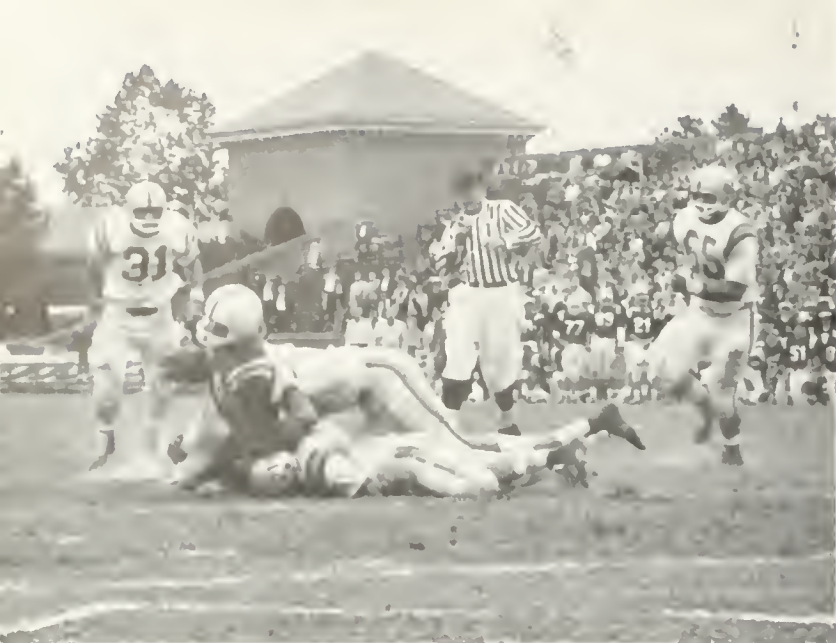

The Big Green moved into Colonial territory three times in the second half without crossing the goal. A pass interception by GW guard Hank Brukly late in the game which he returned to the W&M 23 almost resulted in another TD for the Colonials. They drove inside the Indians' 10 yard line, but the Tribe defense held as the clock ran out.

Terriers Dominate Big Green 33-7 In Oddity-Highlighted Encounter

Weakened by injuries at nearly every position, the Big Green lacked the great offensive punch necessary to overcome Boston University, as the Terriers capitalized on four unusually fortunate breaks to defeat William and Mary 33-7 up in Beantown.

The Terrier scoring pattern was established the first time the Redskins took possession of the ball. As the Tribe quarterback attempted to pass on second down, B.U. left end Jim Kenny rushed in hard, jumped high in the air, and deflected toward right end, Pat McCue. Having no Braves in his path, McCue neatly picked off the pigskin and ran 44 yards for the score.

Spiritedly, the Indians bounded right back as Lenny Rubal returned the kickoff to the W&M 40. In the first series of downs, Dave Edmunds booted to the Boston 24. Rubal then took over. The 215 pounder recovered a Terrier fumble on the first play, immediately smashed 17 yards for the TD and then put the Big Green ahead 7-6, as he toed the point after touchdown.

The Drewermen won the initial quarter, but the second period proved disastrous to the Injun cause. With only 2:20 gone, B.U. speed merchant, right halfback Paul Canero, one of the best backs in the East, scampered 47 yards to pay dirt and followed with two extra points. Five minutes later, Kenny broke through to block a Tribe punt in the Reservation end zone to produce the third Terrier touchdown. Two 15 yard penalties on the Indians after Edmunds had intercepted an Emo DiNittio pass on the W&M 38 had set up the play.

Boston finished up the scoring in the second half with one score in each quarter. One minute before the third period ended, B.U. quarterback Tommy O'Connell duplicated Kenny's feat which yielded the first TD of the game. O'Connell rushed hard, jumped, and intercepted the Redskin's passer's aerial just as it left his hands. The 23 yard return made the score 27-7. The final Terrier touchdown was set up when the Brave secondary got their signals crossed up on a Kenny punt. Due to the cross wind, the ball was misjudged, bounced on the turf, was touched by a Tribesman, and was recovered by B.U.'s Len Pare on the Big Green 21. Kenney caught a 14 yard pass, and then Bill Burgess raced for the score.

Davidson Surprises Redskins 16-7 As Fumbles Cost Homecoming Tilt

Homecoming, the time for the biggest social event of the year for Reservation residents, held on the weekend of November 8, found the luckless Drewmen matched against another Southern Conference rival, tough Davidson College from Davidson, N. C. Performing before an exuberant Carey Field crowd, the two evenly matched grid squads nearly battled to the wire's end, as the Wildcats sporting a fine 4-2 record, obtained a fourth quarter touchdown to sew up an unexpected victory, 16-7.

The Big Green overwhelmingly outstripped the visitors in total offense 272 yards to 165 and first downs 13-9, but three lost Brave fumbles and the healthy Wildcat punting average of 43.7 eventually rolled the drums on the Indians' impressive 4.3 rushing average. Dave Edmunds with 43 yards in eight attempts and Len Rubal with 42 yards on 10 tries bulldozed the Tribe running attack. Signal-caller Charlie Benson was the ringmaster of the Wildcat act, making 45 markers rushing and completing five of 11 passes for 59 yards.

Davidson drew first blood with seven minutes remaining in the initial period, when freshman Bruce Usher booted a fourth down field goal, with the line of scrimmage on the Tribe 23. Later in the half, after the pigskin had changed hands four times, Wildcat captain Craig Wall recovered a Redskin fumble on the home team's 29. In seven running plays, Davidson marched to the W&M five. Benson, a Maitland, Florida junior, then ducked over left tackle for the touchdown.

After a Davidson-dominated first half, the injury-plagued Big Green came to life with the third quarter kickoff and contained the Wildcat running attack to only 38 yards on 21 carries. With 40 seconds left in the period, the Braves completed a scoring drive, which covered 49 yards in 12 plays, for the Reservation's only points. The march was sparked by a 10 yard sprint around left end by Hale. "Boom Boom" Rubal smashed across the middle from the one to score and then converted the extra point.

With victory within the Indians' grasp, Davidson quickly rebounded to clinch the win. The visitors rolled 75 yards in 16 plays, featuring four fine pass completions by Benson. The Wildcats reached the W&M goal, when Benson fired to halfback Wall from the two.

West Virginia Smashes Tribe 56-6 As Mounties Display Great Depth

Hobbled by a long string of injuries, including Len Rubal, Paul Dinsmore, Stan Pokrywka, Mike Lashley, Dave Gatti, and Jim Porach, the undermanned Tribe was quickly swamped by West Virginia's tremendous four unit depth and powerful offensive attack, as the Southern Conference champion Mountaineers piled up a huge 56-6 advantage, to sink the Drewmen for their fourth straight loss.

West Virginia, forced to punt only twice, dominated the game in nearly every department, scoring eight touchdowns by rolling up 451 yards total offense on 25 first downs. Averaging slightly less than six yards per carry, the Mountaineers picked up 268 yards rushing for 18 first downs, while completing 14 out of 27 passes for 183 yards and seven first downs. Although the Tribe rushing attack was totally stifled, the home team had a good day in the air, connecting on 16 of 30 aerials for 189 yards.

The Big Green's sole touchdown was scored in the second period on a 64 yard aerial march. With Tom Secules in the driver's seat, he led the Braves to pay dirt by hitting five of seven passes for 63 yards, the longest being a 22 yarder to Dave Edmunds on the W. Va. 22. The score came on a three yard flip to end Dan Plummer.

In rampaging for 56 points, the Mountaineers crossed the Reservation goal twice in the first, three times in the second, twice in the third, and once in the fourth quarter. Of these eight touchdowns, three were on passes from three different quarterbacks, three were short rushes, one was a short blocked-punt return, and one was a long punt return.

Early in the contest, the visitors took over on their own 26 and, with an assorted passing and running attack, marched 74 yards in 12 plays. Dick Longfellow completed to Ben McComb for an 11 yard score. Minutes later, after a recovered fumble, Danny Williams found the range on a five yarder to Mel Reight. To start the second period, Williams concluded a 57 yard drive on a nine yard keeper. Later in the half, halfback Harry Criss smashed over from one yard out, and then a blocked punt was picked off by Terry Fairbanks for a 10 yard return.

The power loaded Mounties continued to score in the second half but were slowed down somewhat. Longfellow intercepted a Tribe pass on the W&M 48 and returned to the 20. A pass to Fairbanks set up the situation and Reight bolted over from the one. John Marra next raced 79 yards on a thrilling point return, followed early in the last period by a 10 yard score from Carmen Pomponio to Phil Messinger.

Big Green Smashes Spiders 18-15 With Seniors Sparking Final Game

After experiencing an up and down and generally disappointing season, the Big Green again rose to the occasion, fired themselves up, and verily smashed the rival Richmond Spiders 18-15 in a rough and spirited grid clash to hand mentor Milt Drewer his first Turkey trophy in two years.

Led by a sparkling list of graduating seniors, the Indians held the upper hand both physically and in statistics throughout the contest in chalking up their second win of the season. With sophomore Bob Stoy directing the attack, the ground machine worked to perfection, as eight Brave backs netted 264 yards rushing on 60 carries for better than a four yard average. Altogether, the Redskins out-offensed the Spiders 306-211, and a 35.4-25.2 punting average advantage served to magnify the team's brilliant performance. Len Rubal and Dave Edmunds were again the rushing leaders with 81 and 74 yards gained, followed by the trio of Mike Chunta, Jim Porach, and Lauren Kardatzke, who had 31, 42, and 20 yards respectively on a total of 14 carries.

On the opening kickoff, the spirited Injuns quickly moved to the Spider 36 on 15 yard keeper by Stoy and a 23 yard draw play by Chunta. The home team took over on a fumble, but two plays later Gordon Johnston recovered on the UR 46. In seven quick plays, the Tribe reeled to score, Rubal's 22 yard drive up the middle being the key play. On third down and four, lanky Stoy pushed over center for the touchdown.

Later in the opening period with Richmond leading 7-6, the Tribe pulled off their most spectacular scoring play of the year. Porach fell on a Spider bobble on their 44 and then smashed ahead 12 yards for a first down, where the drive bogged down. After a penalty, Stoy dropped back and completed 36 yards to Edmunds on the run who was all alone behind the UR secondary.

Two quarters of rugged, scoreless football were played before the Indians scored the cinching TD at the beginning of the last quarter. When a Richmond punt returner was dropped on his own one yard line, the Spiders were forced to kick. Co-captain Dan Plummer raced in and partially blocked the punt which rolled out on the UR 13. Rubal and Porach carried down to the one, where Edmunds plunged for his second score.

The out-classed Spiders picked up both their touchdowns on lightening fast plays, one in the first and one in the fourth period. Following the Braves' initial score, Richmond quarterback Jerry Landis took Dan Barton's kickoff and strode 85 yards up the right side of the field to score. Then with four minutes remaining, Spider Bruce Boggs shot thru the offensive blocking to intercept a Stoy flat pass for a 60 yard touchdown run.

With "Silent Man" Bill Chambers at the helm for his second year, the Tribe basketball team had another fine season in 1958-59, having better than a .500 season for the second year in a row, winding up in the first division of the Southern Conference, and copping the Big Six championship, as well as putting on a lot of fine performances, especially on the home court.

The Indians were captained and led throughout most of the season by senior Roy Lange from far away Chicago, Ill. Lange, an all-Southern forward with a fine wardrobe of jumps, hooks, and driving layups, had a serious knee operation early in the year, but came back later with his 20 point average and steadying influence to spark the team through the toughest part of the 23 game schedule.

One of the Braves' main attributes was its fine ability to rebound. Fine height and power under the boards was provided by big Jeff "Hoople" Cohen and lanky 6-10 Chuck Sanders. In addition to being a big scoring threat, Cohen was the conference's top rebounder, ranking in the top ten in the nation in that department. Sanders, always a tough man under the boards, was also a stellar performer on defense.

Rounding off the first five were two very capable performers, back court man Tom Farrington and forward Bev Vaughan. Farrington, a man with a deadly jump shot, was the Tribe's ball handling ace, who did most of the playmaking and often was the instigator of the team's excellent fast break attack. Sophomore Vaughan, a Portsmouth import, served as a jack of all trades, maintaining a high scoring and rebounding average, while working the ball a lot.

Sophomore center Jeff "Hoople" Cohen sails high over the heads of his Hampden-Sydney opponents to drop in a big basket in the Indians' smashing romp over the Tigers, as teammate Bev Vaughan (24) looks on.

Pacing the Tribe bench was one of Bill Chambers' most spectacular players, hard playing and spirited Ray Varga from Homestead, Pa. No value could be assessed to reflect his contribution to the season, as several fine victories were sparked by Ray's actions. Filling out the second unit, Chambers employed three sophs, Bill Darrow, Dave Bottoms, and Dave Fiscella, and one junior, Jim Osborn from Aiken, S. C.

The fact that there was another fine basketball team on the Reservation this year was clearly demonstrated early in December. Virginia topped our boys 85-74 in the opening contest, but gaining their confidence came back to sweep five straight victories, four of them in Blow Gym. After squeaking an overtime 63-60 win from W&L, the Tribe returned home to snatch a brilliant 57-52 contest from GW. Jeff Cohen's 16 points and 23 rebounds aided a 59-46 whalloping handed to the Hampden-Sydney Tigers. The following week, the Chambersmen rolled on in great style to smash rival VMI 82-69 and drop SC foe Davidson 72-58.

For the second week of Christmas vacation, the Indians went on a hunting party to Shreveport, La. to hunt scalps in the Gulf South Classic, where the boys brought home the fifth place trophy. Louisiana Tech, the eventual winner of the eight team field, edged the Braves in the first round, but the Redskins came back to whip North Texas 84-77 and Murray State 64-62 in the consolation bracket.

Furman's Purple Paladins started out the new year by thumping W&M 78-70, but two nights later Bev Vaughan pumped in the winning bucket to bury Davidson 59-57. Revenge! It was ever so sweet when we crushed the Richmond Spiders 83-65 here in Williamsburg. Little Morris Harvey surprised us 75-67 and tenth ranked West Virginia won by a 88-76 margin.

The season's greatest victory came over the highly touted Tech Gobblers, who were edged in a down to the last second thriller, as Farrington sewed it with two charity tosses. After blowing a 20-point lead and losing to West Virginia at Norfolk, the team again were edged, this time by Tech. The Tribe smashed VMI for the second time 86-60, but dropped one to GW 87-68. Furman pulled one out of the fire 74-70, after which the Redskins exploded against W&L to set a new scoring record in winning 109-62. The old record of 108 points was set in 1954 against Hampden-Sydney.

The Indians again made a fine showing in the Southern Conference tournament. In the first round, the Chambersmen rebounded to crush the Spiders 83-69. The hard playing quintet from the Reservation might have made it to the finals again, if the tourney was set up like last year, but West Virginia was again too strong, nipping W&M 85-82, one of the Mounties' biggest scares in four years of domination.

Despite the losses of ace pitcher Ron Gardner, short-stop Bob Hardage and centerfield Ed Shine, the Tribe baseball team boasted of nine returning lettermen. The rebuilding year of '58 was successful in maturing many of the freshmen and sophomores.

Co-captained by Bob Brown, a native of Hampton, along with Pennsylvania-bred Tom Secules, the Braves inaugurated the season with Hampden-Sydney on April 1st. A few days later West Virginia provided the opposition in a doubleheader. After the road encounter against the University of Virginia, the Indians returned to the Reservation for a five game home stand. They were hosts to Washington and Lee, George Washington, VPI, and the Citadel for two games.

On the road, single games were played against Washington and Lee, VPI, and VMI. A battle with Richmond, a Davidson doubleheader, and the final home tilt with VMI all took place during the first week of May. The Indians concluded their campaign with away games at George Washington and Richmond.

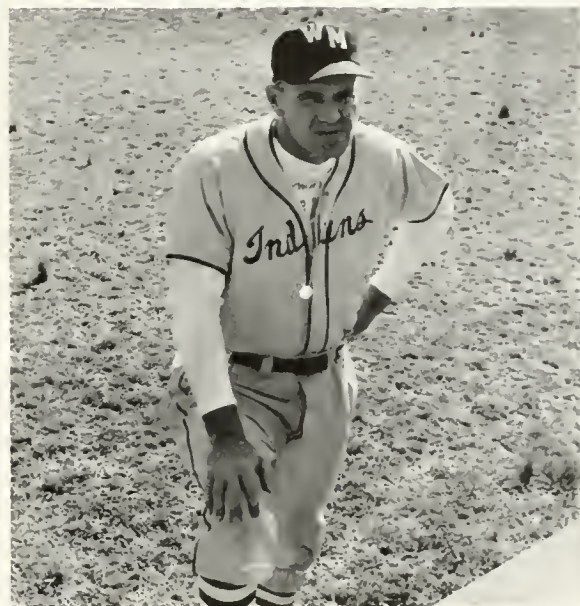

Coach Ed Derringe guided the Tribe through another season. Toting the rubber for his third conseentive season, Bob Brown was the workhorse of the Indian hurlers. Bill Beeker and Bruce Hobbs were credited with heavy mound duty, with Bob Squatriglia, Dave Fiscella, and Dennis Murphy seeing relief assignments. The sure-handling infield was nailed down by juniors Larry Schalk, Joe Dodd, Ron Masci, and senior Wayne Lowry. The long ball hitting power was provided by outfielders Tom Secules and Pete Stockwell, both seniors, and by sophomores Skip Harris and Bob Stoy. The catching chores fell mainly on sophomore Gordon Johnston and junior Bob Blase.

Since freshmen are no longer eligible for varsity play under the new Southern Conference rules, William and Mary presented the first frosh baseball team to don a uniform in many a moon. The freshman coach was Joe Agee, a former baseball and basketball star at the Reservation. Agee previously coached at Warwick High School. He and Bill Chambers, present basketball coach, were co-captains of the '52 basketball team. Following his graduation, Coach Agee served in the Korean War as a Lieutenant with the Marines.

TRACK

With hard-working Harry Groves at the helm, the Indian track team again had a tremendous season, climaxing with an impressive show in the Southern Conference Championship, which was held on the Reservation May 8-9. In preparation for the SC meet, some of the outdoor facilities were greatly improved, as William and Mary unveiled the fastest outdoor track in the state for the 1959 season. Although not as strong in depth as in previous years, the thinclads were nevertheless powerful, improving greatly throughout the schedule, as various inexperienced team members began to contribute.

Setting the pace for the Tribe all spring was a trio of outstanding co-captains, Bob Storm, Bill McCuen, and Bob "Moose" DeTombe. Storm, the SC high jump champion in 1958 and holder of the school record, easily gained first place in the state indoor meet and a tie for first in the SC indoor, in addition to many great performances during the spring. McCuen, who holds the college half mile mark, was the work horse of the team, especially in practice, capturing a huge number of points for the year in running both the half mile and the mile. DeTombe ended his career with nearly as many first place medals as performances and, after recovering from a leg injury, had a fine year in the mile and two mile events.

Junior Danny Newland, holder of the school 440 standard, had another brilliant season, participating in track's toughest event. Newland, a snb 50.0 with a powerful stride, captured the indoor SC title and anchored the stellar mile relay team of Warren Joblin, Bill Davis, Nick St. George, and himself, which lowered the existing indoor mark at the State meet up in Lexington. Davis, a sophomore, and St. George, a junior, were also top quarter milers.

Joblin was again the top low hurdler around the conference, beating his nearest opponent on occasion by as much as a full hurdle. Combining to give the Tribe exceptional superiority in the hurdles was Newport News resident Jerry Saunders, a sophomore and winner of the 1958 SC outdoor and 1959 indoor high hurdles championship. In the outdoor season, sophomore Fran Recchuiti saw lots of action in the highs.

The pole vault was one of the thinclads' strongest events, as three sophomores, Ron Henry, Herm Schmidt, and Wayne Cheek continuously cleared the standards. Rangy Dan Walker, a senior, gave the Injuns fine depth in the high jump, while three speed merchants, Dave Edmunds, a senior, Bill Coe, a sophomore, and Don Whitesell, a sophomore, handled the broad jump and sprints successfully. Senior Ray Varga did a fine job as the team's lone shot putter.

A rapidly developing trio of half milers was led by veteran Jerry Quandt, a junior, and frequent miler with a powerful kick. Trailing the hustling Quandt were junior Jack White and sophomore Steve Bishop. Besides DeTombe, the entries in the two mile were sophomores John Harvey and Steve Dunning.

Beginning in January, the Tribe first rolled through a big indoor season, which included the Eastern Invitation in Baltimore, the Evening Star in Washington, and three successive weeks in Lexington, for the VMI Relays, the State Meet, and the Southern Conference. Successes mounted with each meet, concluding with the SC. McCuen and DeTombe picked up points in the distances, Storm was consistently good, and Newland and the mile relay racked in the points, in addition to hurdlers Joblin and Saunders, Walker in the high jump, and the three pole vaulters.

The outdoor slate included meets with Hampden-Sydney, Virginia, Richmond, and Virginia Tech in dual contests, a triangular battle with VMI and Georgetown, and trips to the Quantico Relays, the Penn Relays, and the Southern Conference. The Tribe also had one of its finest freshman squads ever.

GOLF

Golf coach Joe Mark looks on as Tribe team captain Ken Rice prepares to drive

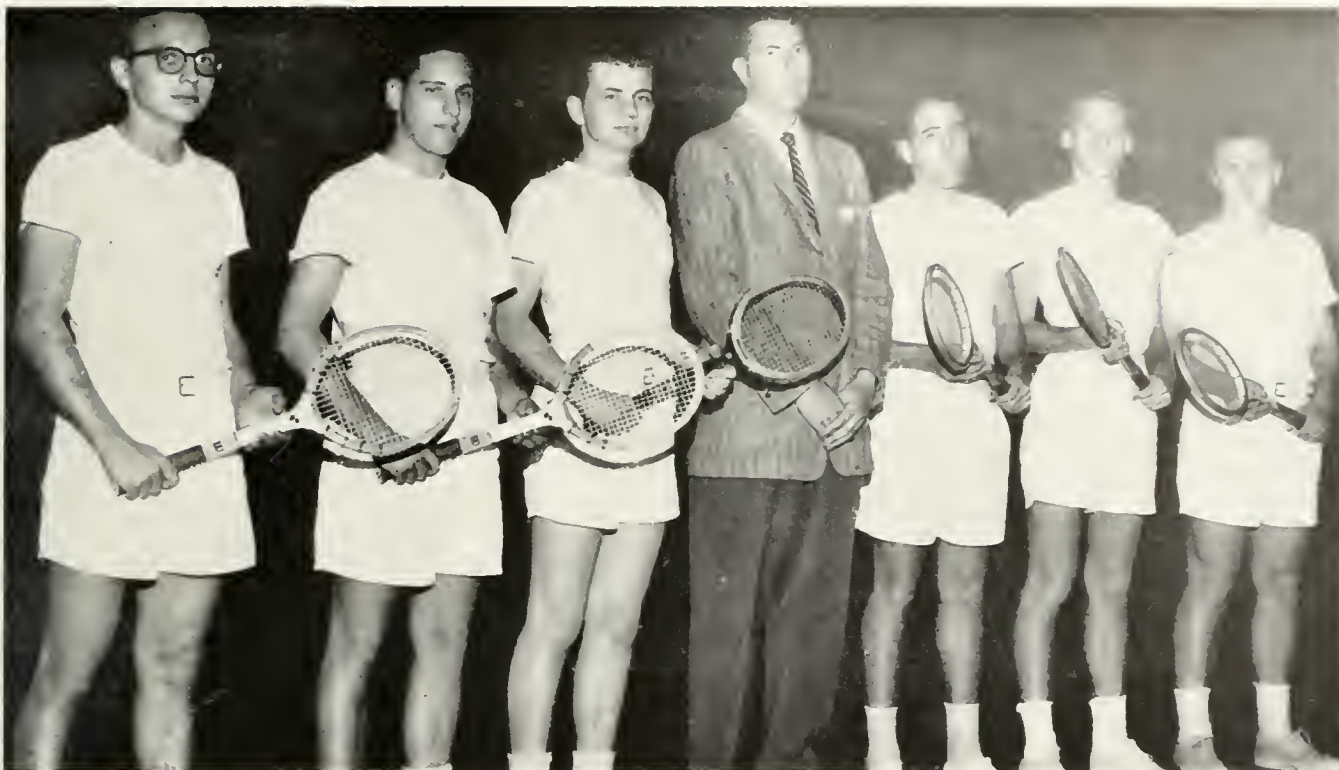

Under the tutelage of Head Coach Joe Mark, the Indian golf team came through with another fine year bettering last season's fine 6-5 record. The nucleus of the team was formed by six returning lettermen and two up and coming sophomores. In completing the 13 date schedule, the Braves again sustained their powerhouse position in the Southern Conference, obtained in 1958 when the Big Green captured second place in the annual SC meet.

Alternating the numbers one and two spots for his third straight year was junior captain Ken Rice, an extremely good player from Nashua, New Hampshire. Pacing the Tribe along with Rice were two more fine linksmen, Jim Barrett, a cool-headed senior from Williamsburg, and Dave Mance, a sharp shooting sophomore from Mt. Kisco, New York.

Repeating their fine seasons in 1958 were two competent underclass lettermen, junior Charlie Dudley, who calls Havana, Florida home, and Elliott Ingram, who hails from Meadville, Penn. After serving a hitch in the Army, senior letterman Spafford Timberlake, a Williamsburg resident, returned for the 1959 slate to greatly strengthen the Indians. Also bolstering the club were outstanding sophomores Mike McCall from Hellertown, Penn. and Jeff Stafford from Pearisburg, Va.

The season was initiated at home when the Braves competed with Virginia on April 6, followed four days later by a clash with the Richmond Spiders. After the short home stand, the Indians completed a four match road trip, which began on April 15 and covered four colleges in six days. The first away contest was with the William and Mary Division at Norfolk, after which the Redskins battled the Virginia Tech Gobblers, the Washington and Lee Generals, and the rival VMI Keydets.

Returning home to the Reservation, the Injuns encountered three important SC foes, before participating in the Southern Conference meet the first week of May. The final home stand began with the West Virginia Mounties, followed by the Georgetown and the George Washington Colonials, and concluding the regular season with the Citadel representatives. After pointing to it all season, the team traveled to Hot Springs, Va. for the Big Six championships, and then terminated a successful year by entering the Peninsula Amateur at Newport News.

TENNIS

The prospects for the outcome of the 1959 Indian tennis were indeed gloomy, as the courtmen prepared for a rugged 13 match schedule with only three lettermen, the only three men with any varsity experience to speak of. Tennis has always been a top sport on the Reservation, but Coach Bob Gill was unfortunately faced with a serious rebuilding program. Graduation took a fatal toll last year, as five of the first six men were handed diplomas, leaving only team Captain Mike Heims to shoulder the load of the 1959 season. Departed from last year's fine squad were Captain Toby Perry, Jeff Dixon, Pete Peterson, Bob Doughtie, and Ralph Henkle.

Captain Mike Heims, a six foot, 170 pound junior from far-off Phoenix, Arizona, who played number one singles and number one doubles throughout most of the season, was the only returning Red-skin with both singles and doubles experience. In 1958, Heims, who takes advantage of his fine backhand, garnered his second letter, playing number three in singles and teaming with Ralph Henkle in the number two doubles spot, and compiling a commendable 8-5 record in both events. Before Mike came to Williamsburg to letter in the number five spot as a freshman, he was one of the top amateurs in Arizona, a state junior doubles championship being his most notable success.

Playing in the number two position this year with Heims in an outstanding doubles combination was letterman Jerry King, a five foot eleven, 170 pound junior from New Rochelle, N. Y. King, who commands a strong service and a solid backhand, was the Braves' most improved net man, after spending a competitive summer around his home. Last year, he played number three doubles and smashed out an outstanding 7-3 mark, being defeated in the SC meet by the eventual doubles champions.

Ken Kranzberg, the Tribe's only senior from St. Louis, Mo., had a fine season also, holding down the team's number three singles position and playing number two doubles. A lefty with a strong forehand and exceptionally steady game, earned his first letter in 1958, playing third doubles with King. Seeing considerable action this year were junior John Pforr from Baltimore and three sophomores, Jim Caserta from Bridgeport, Conn., Steve Lovell from Jamaica, N. Y., and Jim Gandy from Bridgeton, N. J.

The net team paced through the 13 match slate with reasonable success under the circumstances, starting with four straight home contests with Williams, Haverford, Colgate, and Cornell. With warmer weather, the Braves took to the road, encountering away matches with Georgetown, Virginia, and Richmond. For the last two weeks of April, the team came back to the Reservation and challenged VMI, Virginia Tech, Citadel, West Virginia, and Washington and Lee. Early in May, the Indians battled it out with Navy and George Washington, before attending the Southern Conference tournament.

CROSS COUNTRY

Under the tutelage of mentor Harry Groves, 28-year-old former Temple Star, the Tribe cross country team turned in another fine season, posting a 3-3 slate in formidable competition. Despite the handicap of an undermanned squad, the harriers still garnered three honors, taking second place in the State Senior AAU and Virginia Big Six meets, while netting third in the Southern Conference Championship runoff.

Pacing the thinclads for their fourth consecutive season were three seniors, Bob DeTombe, Bill McCuen, and Gil McNair, who lettered all four years of varsity competition and hold the three fastest times ever run by W&M runners on the W&M four mile course. Only lack of depth on the team and frequent injuries kept the Reservation's three greatest harriers from annexing their fourth straight SC team crown.

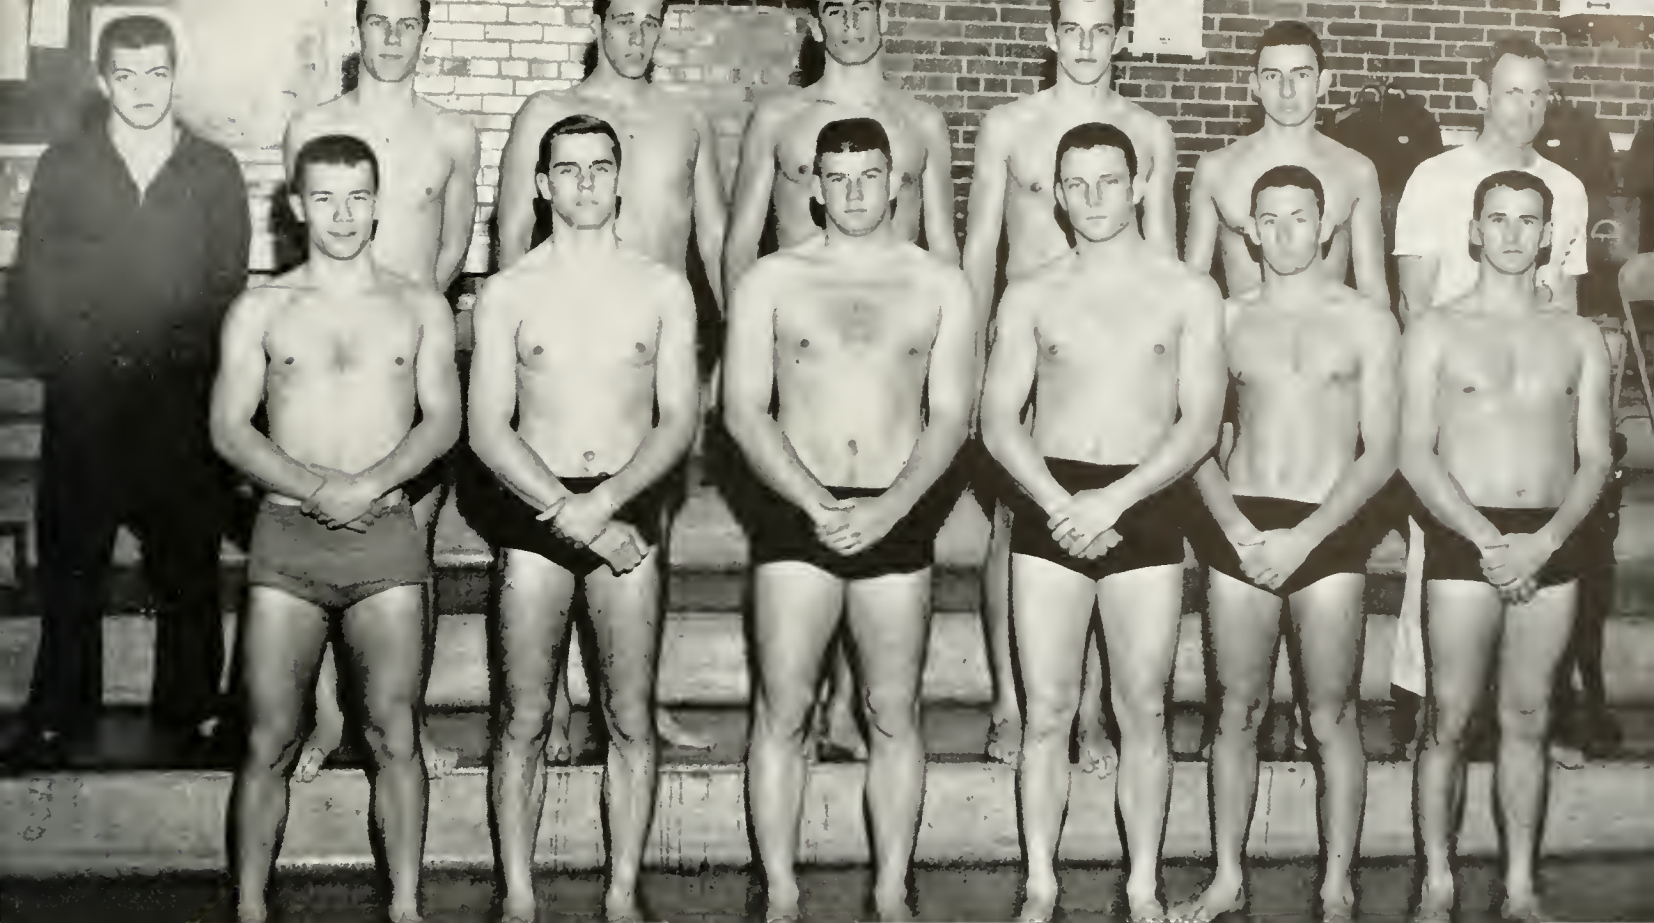

The Indians opened the season by taking an 18-42 drubbing from powerful ACC member Duke, but rebounded the following week to smash the rival Richmond Spiders by a similar margin 17-40. Following a 19-36 loss to talent-loaded Georgetown, the Braves romped another SC foe, VMI, 23-35. To obtain their third victory, the thinclads easily disposed of Furman 20-37, however the final dual meet of the year was dropped to state powerhouse Roanoke, 25-32.

DeTombe, the husky Rochelle Park, New Jerseyite, was again the team stand-out as he copped four firsts in dual meets and first in the Big Six. At Greenville, S. C., "Moose" won the SC individual crown for the second year in a row, as he lowered the Furman course record to 24:52.2 for four miles. He finished second in 1955 and 1956. McCuen, a Havertown, Pa., resident, likewise was a stellar performer. He captured three seconds in dual meets, second in the Big Six, but was unable to run in the SC meet. Team captain McNair, from Sloatsburg, N. Y., in addition to other fine performances, should be noted for taking ninth in both the Big Six and SC. Other outstanding members were lettermen Jerry Quandt from Norfolk; Fran Recchuiti from Havertown, Pa.; and Malcolm Robinson from Cambridge, England.

Eight freshman award winners, George Bassett, Keith Larson, Terry Shelton, Wendell Beliveau, Ted Ellis, George Ford, Marty Aronauer, and Bob Chapman, led the frosh team to a successful 4-2 season and second place in the State Junior AAU run.

SWIMMING

Coach D. Jensen and Captain Herk Tomlinson

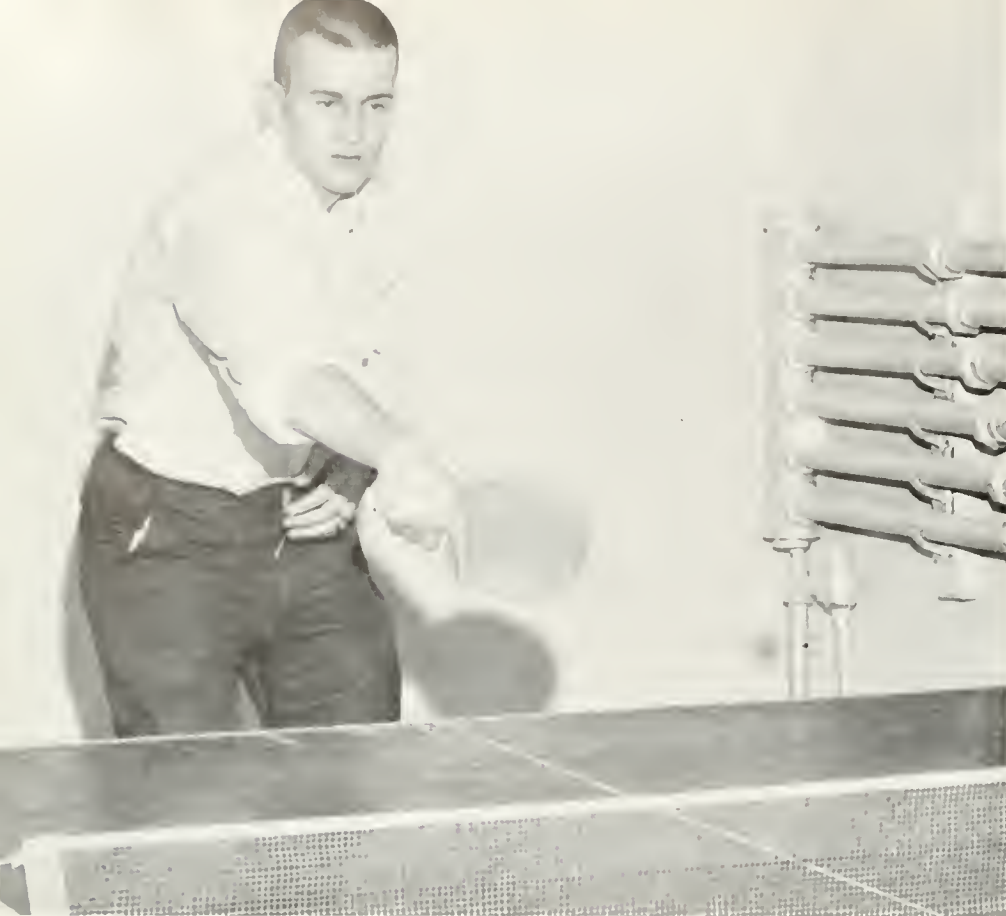

The Tribe swimming team splashed through another successful season in 1958-59 to capture four out of nine meets, against some rather stiff competition including Washington and Lee, the Citadel, and Davidson. Although frequently short on depth, the Indians, coached by Dudley Jensen, employed several fine triple duty men to capture their team victories.

Pacing the tank team throughout the schedule was team captain Maurice Tomlinson, the squad's only senior from Cleveland Heights, Ohio. Swimming no less than three events a meet, Tomlinson terminated his collegiate career by pacing off 67 1/4 points, gaining most of them in the 200 yard butterfly, the 440 free style, and the 400 yard medley relay. While on the Reservation, "Herk" established four William and Mary records, the 220 free style, the 160 individual medley, the 200 medley, and the 200 butterfly, and shared two others, the 400 medley relay, and the 400 free style relay.

Although only a sophomore, the Braves' top point-getter with 75 points was lanky Dave Kurland from New Haven, Conn., the Southern Conference's best sprint swimmer. With two years of eligibility left, Kurland already holds the W&M marks for the 50, 60, and 100 yard free style events, and this year he beat every top sprinter in the conference.

Gary Collier, a junior from Williamsburg, gave the team plenty of support in the sprints, while sophomore Dave Diehr, who calls Wooster, Ohio, home, did most of the Tribe's heavy backstroke work. Junior Phil Bullard from New Rochelle, N. Y., the holder of the college's 200 yard breaststroke record, again earned a letter for his dependable performances. In the distance events, Jensen had another fine swimmer in sophomore Bob Kersman, a Muskegon, Mich. import. Rounding out the squad were distance men Joe Ayers and Morty Berkowitz, Art Lloyd, a fine diver, backstroker Dick Cohen, and divers Danny Yates and Mike Mitchell.

The tank team opened the season with Davidson and were edged on the final relay 47-39. Two days later, the Braves splashed back to whip Wake Forest 45-41. Returning home, the Indians pulled off their biggest victory and drubbed Catholic U. 62-24. After Christmas vacation, the team found January rough going as it absorbed losses from Washington and Lee 62-24 and from Virginia Tech 56-30. To start the second semester, the Tribe won its third and fourth triumphs, knocking off Georgetown 46-38 and American U. 51-35. Finishing the regular season, the Indians were topped 53-33 by AMI and were swamped 60-23 by a strong Citadel team.

The 1958-59 men's intramural season got off on much the same note as last year's closely contested campaign. As usual, main emphasis was directed toward the total point award which was captured by SAE last spring in what could have been the tightest race in intramural history.

The first team sport of the first semester was swimming and, in this event, PiKA edged out SAE for team honors. Two outstanding individuals in the meet were Lambda Chi's pledge Chris Herr and SAE's Marty DeHaan.

In touch football, KA finished undefeated against fraternity competition, but lost in the all-campus championship to a powerful US team. The fraternity league all-star team found repeaters in KA's Mickey Simpson, Sigma Nu's Dick Grizzard, and Vince Malandra of PiKA. Newcomers to this honorary squad were Dave Chrisman (Sigma Nu), Ron Masci (Kappa Sig), Nick St. George (KA), George Rostrom of PiKA, and Warren Joblin of Lambda Chi.

Going over to individual sports, SAE's Tom Legg converted 79 out of 80 attempts to capture place-kicking honors. Bob Brown, also of SAE, finished second with 78-80. In horseshoes, Tom Martin of KA defeated Ron Jordon (Sigma Pi) in the finals. Last year's champ, Frank Cornell, was eliminated in the second round.

Sigma Pi's Barry Martin helps his fraternity to another basket, as Theta Delt's Jerry File and referee "Monk" Tomlinson look on in an intramural basketball encounter as PiKA's Tony Spallone finished second. Last season's free throw champ, Nat Withers of Sigma Nu, failed to qualify for the final round in this year's contest.

All-star center George Rostrun puts the tag on Phi Tan's hustling ball carrier Jim Hall as PiKA battles with Phi Tau in an intramural touch football game

PiKA won the fraternity bowling league by a large margin to move ahead of SAE in the total point race. The Sig Alphas finished second and Sigma Pi placed third in alley competition.

Pi Lamb grabbed first place honors in volleyball by finishing the schedule undefeated. SAE again finished second, dropping their only game to Pi Lamb. PiKA maintained their total point lead by finishing a close third in this event.

First semester activities were concluded just before reading week with the annual intramural wrestling matches. In a tight struggle for team points, Sigma Nu unseated KA to capture the meet. KA won more first places but the Numen had enough depth to overcome the deficit and finish on top. Individual winners in the respective divisions were: 130 pounds, Bill Smith of Lambda Chi; 137 pound limit, Perry Shelton of PiKA; 147 pounds, Dick Grizzard (Sigma Nu); 157 pounds, Dave Edmunds of KA; 167 pounds, Tom Martin (KA), and Mickey Simpson (KA) won the 177 class. Theta Delt's Tom Secules picked up the 191 pound division and the unlimited champ was Sigma Nu's Dick Hoyer.

Second semester competition included basketball, handball, and ping-pong, with track, handball doubles, golf, badminton, and softball to play later in the spring. Last year's champs, Sigma Nu in basketball, Larry Peccatiello in handball, and Nat Withers in ping-pong were strong contenders to retain their laurels.

A review of first semester activity found PiKA leading the total point loop with SAE struggling in second place. The dangerous threat to PiKA's position was found in Sigma Nu who repeated their traditional practice of winning many second-semester events. As last year's battle was a down-to-the-wire scrap between SAE, KA, and Sigma Nu, with the Sig Alphas merging on top, this year's picture was much the same with Sigma Nu, PiKA, SAE, and Pi Lambda battling for the coveted trophy.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women's Athletic Association began its 1958-59 program with the annual freshman orientation picnic. Throughout the entire year this organization capably promoted women's athletics at William and Mary. Its purpose is to promote healthful and recreative physical activities for all the women students of the College.

As a woman enters William and Mary, she automatically becomes a member of WAA. This entitles her to play varsity or intramural sports as she chooses. The WAA is comprised of three committees: the Joint Committee, the Intramural Committee, and the Managers' Board.

WAA President—J. Fruland

JOINT COMMITTEE

Seated: J. Costabell, J. Fruland, Miss Reeder, M. Briscoe

Standing: P. Davis, Miss Barksdale, D. Hill, Dean King, Mrs. Rutherford

Presiding over the Association this year was Judy Fruland. Marge Briscoe was elected point recorder, and Joan Costabell filled the secretarial post.

By participating in intramural or intercollegiate sports, a woman earns a certain amount of points. An accumulation of 350, 500, 1,000 points makes the recipient eligible for award. 50 points is the highest amount that a woman may receive for intramural participation, and if a woman has played a varsity sport, she may not enter that particular intramural tournament. From 50-75 points are awarded to recipients of varsity letters.

As the spring of the year rolls in, the women at the College may partake in any of three varsity sports—lacrosse, tennis, and fencing.

Returning to their foils from the previous year were Tish Griffin, Barbara Bunn, and Pat Whitehurst. Teddy Johnson was a newcomer to the group.

Eleven letter winners returned to the lacrosse field. They were Judy Short, Margie Briscoe, Janet Caldwell, Sue Whitlowe, Pat Griffin, Dorsey Hill, Phyllis Owen, Peggy Clements, Joan Galvin, Kitty Lutzelman, and Judy Urian. Hollins, Sweet Briar, Westhampton, and the Virginia Club were the teams encountered.

The tennis team was graced this year with frosh star, Donna Floyd. Donna is nationally ranked and has quite a number of trophies to her credit. Veterans were Carolyn Bloxson, Carolyn Wenger, Mecci Carlson, Joan Costabell, Fran Davis, Trudy Havola, Mann Layne, and Barbara Willoughby.

Matches with Sweet Briar, Longwood, Westhampton, and the Suffolk Club were played, and the most important feature of the season was William and Mary's participation in the Middle States Tournament.

BASKETBALL

Six members of last year's varsity basketball squad returned: senior captain Judy Fruland, Pat Davis and Franny Broache as forwards, and June Roberts, Marge Briscoe, and Mam Layne as guards. Donna Floyd, freshman tennis star, excelled in playmaking and was an asset to the team.

The veterans, combined with 40 enthusiastic newcomers, aided the Squaws in having a successful season. The opponents, Mary Washington and Notre Dame, met on the home court and Westhampton, Sweet Briar, and Longwood, encountered on the road, created many exciting afternoons for the Squaws.

Each season the Squaws make one long trip. This year they traveled to the western part of Virginia and met Sweet Briar and Longwood.

The junior varsity met all the teams mentioned above, and scored victories over Mary Washington and Notre Dame.

HOCKEY

Coached by Miss Grace Matz the Squaws completed the 1958 season with a 4-4 slate—their most outstanding record since 1950. Captain Joanne Robinson and co-captain Jogina Diamanti led them to victories over Mary Washington (twice), Petersburg Club, and Westhampton. The remaining teams encountered were Richmond Club, Little Colonels Club, and Longwood.

Freshman Claudia Barclay performed an outstanding job by scoring a total of 16 goals. She and four other frosh broke into the starting line-up this year. Returning varsity letter winners were senior Joanne Robinson, juniors Lynn Carr, Nancy Grubbs, Micky Gale, Mecci Carlson, and Jogina Diamanti. All of these Squaws have had at least three years of varsity experience.

The Squaws placed two girls on the Tidewater I team—Joanne Robinson at right inner and Nancy Grubbs at goalie. Lynn Carr, left wing, and Jogina Diamanti, left halfback, were selected for Tidewater II. Micky Gale, Claudia Barclay, and Miss Grace Matz went to the Southeast Tournament as substitutes. The tournament was held in Baltimore, Maryland.

Twenty-eight goals were accumulated by the Squaws this year, and they played their most outstanding game against the Richmond Club. The Squaws were defeated; however, their excellent teamwork dominated the play, and it outshadowed the experienced Richmond Club.

The junior varsity played four games and were victorious in three. There is great promise for next year, for the freshmen were enthusiastic as well as skilled.

WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS

The sports offered in the intramural circles are so varied that each woman can partake and thoroughly enjoy at least one. Most important in participation in intramurals is interest, sportsmanship, enjoyment, and relaxation. The points accumulated by each dorm and sorority in each sport are totaled to determine the over-all winner of the coveted trophy.

Each of the sports were managed by women students, and each dorm and sorority elects an intramural representative to keep them informed as to when and how the teams should be formed.

Managers of these teams were: swimming—Patty Jo Divers and Tish Griffin as assistant; bowling—Nancy Grubbs; ping-pong—Pat Davis; softball—Judy Fruland and Peggy Clement as assistant; basketball—Joanne Robinson and Nancy Hagy as assistant; volleyball—Marge Briscoe and Sue Whitlowe as assistant;

ORCHESIS

The aim of Orchesis, the modern dance group at William and Mary, is to provide a means through which students may further their interests and talents in dance on a more advanced level.

The membership of this group is determined by a series of tryouts held early in the fall. The capabilities of each aspiring dancer are judged by the returning members. The girls are invited to join the organization on the basis of their grace, coordination, and nimbleness.

Orchesis is truly fortunate to have at their disposal the facilities of the television studios in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall. Meetings are devoted to work on particular problems in presentation, staging and group relationships in the dance.

Throughout the year the new techniques are practiced for their culmination in an annual Spring Concert. The members of the modern dance club sponsor and attend several shows performed by the Richmond Dance Society. Such recitals provide practical learning experience to each of the girls in all fields of dance presentation.

During the 1958-1959 season, Twyla Willey served as President for the second year. Aiding her were Sue Singer as Vice President, Pat Fojt as Secretary, Phil Garriss as Costume Designer and Miss Gladys Warren as Faculty Director.

MERMETTES

Mermettes provides for the campus of William and Mary an opportunity for women students possessing aquatic prowess to practice their swimming skills in organized and goal-seeking practice. The ultimate achievement of the year was the annual Spring Water Show which this year used toys as a theme. Water ballet was channeled into the precision and timing of the military "March of the Tin Soldier." An imaginative creation of swimming linker toys provided an amusing diversion for an appreciative audience. This success illustrated the faithful efforts of the girls both in the water and out of the water working with lighting, costumes and composition.

To join Mermettes, a girl interested in swimming may try out in the fall. She is judged on her ability to swim to music and to execute basic strokes and dives. It is the cooperative achievements of each individual which makes Mermettes a stimulating and successful activity for both spectators and participants each year.
